Seminar Planned Tuesday to Increase Interest in Running for School Board

"Be part of a Great American Heritage!" trumpets the red, white and blue brochure. "Serve on your local school board!"

But the New Jersey School Boards Association's exhortation doesn't bring long lines of candidates eager to meet the February 22 filing deadline. And yet, service on a school board can be, in the words of the Borough's Joan Doig, who has served two three-year terms, and isn't running again, "exciting."

Next Tuesday at 8 p.m., the public is invited to a panel discussion designed to encourage people to run for school boards. It will be in the auditorium of the Woodrow Wilson School, Washington Road. "Excellence in Education: for Whom and How Much?" is the subject.

The idea for the seminar originated with school board member Rosalind Frisch. Joint sponsors are the board, the Center for New Jersey Affairs of the Woodrow Wilson School at Princeton University and the Princeton Area League of Women Voters, whose education chairman, Lynne Durkee, has been the League's representative for planning the event.

Meanwhile, Ann McGoldrick, 25 Vandeventer, announced this week that she is running for one of the two Borough seats available this year on the school board. Joseph P. Moore, who already holds the other, has said that he will probably run again. He was elected to fill out an expiring term and if he runs, would be seeking his first full, three-year term.

Gail Firestone holds the one Township seat that is open this year. She said this week that she is waiting to see whether a qualified person "who shares my concerns about curriculum, evaluation, accountability and emphasis on basic skills," decides to run before making her own decision. She has served two terms.

Speakers at Tuesday night's event will be Fred Burke, New Jersey's Commissioner of Education; Assemblyman Daniel .Newman, chairman of the Education Committee of the State Assembly; Winthrop Pike, president and long-time member ot

Increase in Parking Meter Fees to Bring Borough Additional Revenue at Rate of $100,000 Annually

There will still be places around town where you can buy 12 minutes of parking time for a penny, but Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley announced on Monday that parking meter fees will be raised. He expects the stiffer charge to begin June 1. It will add $50,000 to the Borough's revenue box for the last six months of 1979, he said.

The Borough's $3,916,920 budget will be introduced at this Thursday's 8 p.m. agenda session in Borough Hall, and the tax rate is less than the 20 percent increase announced last week. The estimated rate will be $1.05 per $100 of assessed valuation, up from the current 86 cents.

However, Administrator Robert F. Mooney pointed out that the $1.05 "is only up eight points from the 97-cent rate of 1974, 1975 and 1976." The budget is just under the state-imposed five percent "cap" on top of the current budget.

Final calculations showed, Mr. Mooney reported, that more money had to be debited against the surplus than originally supposed. This means the Borough will have only $160,000 in surplus and not the $200,000 originally planned for.

The local rate is the lowest of the three components of a municipal budget: county and school taxes are the other two. Borough, Township and school board have agreed to hold a joint meeting Monday, February 26 at 8 p.m. in the Valley Road building to talk about the impact of the school budget on the taxpayer and whether anything can be done about it.

The agenda will consist of discussion of budget constraints, the budget process and an overview of the budget for all three participants. The meeting is open to the public, but it is probable that there will be no public participation, officials said.

The school budget has already gone to the state for approval, Mayor Cawley said on Monday, and the amount cannot be increased, but could be reduced. Commenting on recent citizen criticism of the school budget, the mayor said at his press conference that "citizens have a duty to appear at school board meetings and ask questions. If citizens beat on us, and haven't gone there, they haven't done their job."

Meanwhile, Council members Nelson van den Blink, Richard Macgill and Charles Cornforth will meet this Wednesday with representatives of Trenton, Hamilton and Hopewell Townships and Hopewell Borough (other Mercer County communities are too involved with budgets to send anyone, Mrs. van den Blink said) to block out strategy for their appearance Saturday before the county Freeholders.

Council members have been attending Freeholder budget meetings.Mrs. van den Blink told reporters Borough officials had no "startling recommendations" for the Freeholders, but hoped to get some ideas Wednesday.

Mayor Cawley repeated that he will ask Princeton University to consider raising its $20,000 in-lieu-of-taxes contribution to the Borough, but he added that the University is the largest single taxpayer in the Borough, on its non-academic properties.

The mayor suggested that loss of the Princeton Inn as a hotel and conference center might have had a more severe impact on the economy of the community than loss of the building – it is now a dormitory – as a tax rateable.

In the question of subsidizing educational institutions, the mayor said, "It is very difficult to know what is right."

Parking meter fees can be raised, the mayor explained, if the increase is related to the cost of service, under state law. A municipality cannot use meters as a tool for revenue-raising, he said. The Borough's Barton traffic study said Borough fees were much lower than the meter fees ot comparable towns, the mayor pointed out.

There will be no change in all-day rates in parking yards. But in 30-minute zones, parkers must pay ten cents instead of five for the half hour. In one- and two-hour meters, a dime will buy only half an hour instead of an hour.

Steering Committee Discusses Business District's Development

A broad-ranging, almost philosophical discussion in the basement of Borough Hall Monday night touched on matters seemingly as unrelated as ornamental street lighting and jitney service, and yet, adopting from Planning Board chairman Margen Penick the word "linkage," it all came together.

It was the Citizen Steering Committee for the Central Business District, consultants Venturi and Rauch and some 15 residents who came to listen and speak.

Seven "issues and alternatives" were the base for discussion: the scale ot CBD expansion, the role of cars, land uses, urban design and ambiance, business needs, residential neighborhood needs, fiscal and economic health.

Highlights:

- "There are two key problems: what is the current parking deficiency and are zoning requirements for parking right for the CBD? How big a garage you build. hinges on these," Mary Yee, Venturi and Rauch.
- "What amenities, besides shopping, do we have to attract people to Princeton? Witherspoon Street is anchored by the library and the University – these are linkages to other parts of town." Mrs. Penick.
- "I've never understood why public housing should be placed in the small confines of the CBD." Ralph Hulit Jr.
- "Are you going to consider the effects of traffic on neighboring streets?" Ann McGoldrick.
- That depends on how much money you want to spend on the study." Ms. Yee.
- People don't much like a bus." Denise Scott Brown, Venturi and Rauch.
- "This is the 'Central District,' not only Central Business District. Is it just as economic resource, or a multi-faceted resource for interaction? Does it belong to its property owners? Alan Wallack.
- "How about housing for the

School Board Seminar

Princeton's school board; Henry Drewry, director of teacher preparation at Princeton University and a former history teacher at Princeton High School and Rita Ludlum, who has been active in both the League and the Parent-Teacher Organization. Ingrid Reed, a League member who is on the staff of the Woodrow Wilson School, will moderate.

Broadly, the evening will be concerned with how the problems of urban school districts affect suburban districts like Princeton. In addition, speakers are expected to talk about how children's needs can be matched with the limited money that is available.

Contests In Doubt. Whether the seminar will spark anyone to file a petition (available in the Valley Road office of the secretary of the board), nobody knows. So far, there is no contest in either Borough or Township. Mrs. Doig, retiring from the board after six years, even says it's hard to pipoint specific issues.

"Pre-election debate will probably be on the budget," she predicts. "Voters will ask why the school budget is increasing, when enrollment is going down and the staff is smaller. Well, 80 percent of our teaching staff is at the top of the salary guide, there is a 9 to 10 percent inflation for everything we buy -- textbooks, fuel oil . . .

"Other people believe a $9 million budget is understandable, but they want to be assured that we're delivering quality service. This is hard to respond to with either 'yes' or 'no.' What are the measuring tools? What are we measuring?

"There is continuing concern about the high school, but we must keep our perspective: it's a very good school but everyone feels it can be made much better. People are very comfortable with the elementary program."

Battle Against Erosion. Mrs. Doig is concerned about "the continuing battle" against erosion of the schools' program.

"Anyone on the school board must have a high tolerance for frustration, and the ability to choose among solutions not palatable in the first place! You must measure a smaller group against a larger, you may have to lop into the desires of the majority. You must be able to view all sides, and come to a 'middle' solution.

"But it's exciting. And it's healthy to have new faces on the board -- they challenge what may have been a very close, cohesive board, and that's a good thing."

Mrs. McGoldrick, in her formal statement, says she's running "because of my commitment to excellence in public education and my personal conviction that people who believe in a goal ought to pitch in actively to work for that goal."

"I see the present board and our new superintendent working hard to identify those areas (which can be improved) and to suggest improvement, and I would like to join their efforts."

elderly near the Shopping Center?" William Cherry.

• I haven't heard anyone so benighted as to want no expansion of the CBD," Mrs. Penick.

• "Expansion to 50 percent of the 1967 commercial space isn't a permanent decision." Mayor Robert W. Cawley.

• "Who owns what, can be important in what can change and what should change . . . We want a sense of priority from you . . .Specific and immediate proposals are needed, not a beautiful picture of a time that will never happen." Ms. Scott Brown.

The next meeting like this will be held Wednesday, February 21, at 8 in Borough Hall. At that time, Borough engineer George Olexa will report on how many square feet in commercial and housing space the CBD had in 1979 (when the most recent Master Plan was completed) and how that compares with 1979.

COLD MONTH AHEAD

"Below Normal" Forecast. A cold, stormy February is anticipated for New Jersey, according to James Carr, National Weather Service advisory agricultural meteorologist based at Rutgers University's Cook College. Temperatures across the state are likely to be colder than normal in February, with a downward trend during the first three weeks of the month, followed by gradual warming in the last week.

Daily average temperatures for the early part of the month will range from the mid-20s in North Jersey to the low 30s elsewhere in the state. They will climb to the low 30s for North Jersey and into the upper 30s in southern counties as March approaches, Mr. Carr said.

Precipitation is expected to be near or above the normal three inches for the state during February, with snowfall amounts of about a foot in North Jersey to between one and four inches in South Jersey. Farmers and home gardeners in the state can expect wind and cold to be persistent problems this month, with ice and snow providing additional troubles from time to time.

Growers should continue to protect plants and shrubs from temperature damage by making sure there is sufficient mulching material around the base of the plants.

Police Report Shows Less Than 3% of Homes In Township Were Entered During Past Year

Although he gave no comparison figures, Chief Frederick Porter said that 1978 annual Township crime statistics do not vary in any significant degree from those of the previous year.

Of the 731 crimes committed in the Township during 1978, more than a third -- 294 – were larcenies. "People are just bent to steal," remarked Chief Porter. The second largest category was 123 breaking and enterings. "For a municipality of approximately 4,500 homes, that's not bad," Chief Porter commented.

Others were disorderly conduct (91), assault (21), forgery-fraud-embezzlement and narcotic drug laws, both 16. Thirteen were charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs, 15 for malicious mischief.

There were nine sex offenses and five robberies, but no rapes and no homicides. Nineteen cars were stolen.

One hundred twelve adults and 95 juveniles were arrested in the Township last year. Slightly more than half of the juvenile arrests were for larceny (30) and for disorderly conduct (20).

For adults, disorderly conduct led the arrest list with 31, followed by larceny (16) and narcotic drug laws and driving under the influence, both 13. Seven were arrested for assault with weapons and seven more for other assaults.

12,686 Telephone Calls. During 1978, 12,686 calls for police assistance were recorded in the police docket. Of these, 6,291 required an investigation of some type. Calls requesting aid to citizens (assisting disabled motorists, helping those locked out of homes and so on) totalled 2,552 and there were 2,097 alarms answered -- most of them false.

The police cars traveled 242,518 miles in 1978 – more than the distance from earth to the moon. A total of 1,062 vacant homes were checked during the year and of $206,547 in property stolen in 1978, about 10 percent – $20,317 -- was recovered.

56 More Accidents. Township police investigated 436 motor vehicle accidents in 1978 -- 56 more than the previous year. Police attributed the rise to bad weather and road conditions in January and February. There were 68 accidents last January -- the highest for any one month in the last ten years.

Not surprisingly, Route 206 North continues to have a high accident rate, 37 in 1978 and 32 the year before . . . due in part, police said, to extremely poor road conditions. Accidents increased from 11 to 25 on Route 206 South, from 10 to 15 on Quaker Road but fell to 9 from 16 on Mercer Road. Accidents involving pedestrians were cut in half -- from 6 to 3 – while those involving bicyclists also decreased, from 6 to 2.

Up, too, were the number of traffic summonses -- 3,469 from 3,263. Of these, 970 were moving violations, including 567 speeding through radar, which represented a sharp decrease in the 1,562 moving violations in 1977.

Parking violations, however, were up sharply – 2499 in 1978, 1701 in 1977. Police blamed part of the increase on parking conditions around Princeton Medical Center (which have been alleviated with the opening of the hospital's new parking garage.)

Among many rewards received by department members in 1978, was the Posthumous Award for Service presented by the Princeton Jaycees to Lt. Michael G. Lisi who died of a heart attack last February.

Ptl. James Vandermark won five pistol-shooting awards, while Ptl. Virgil Angelini attained the highest academic award in the 164th Municipal Training Class for police recruits at the State Police Academy in Sea Girt.

TOPICS Of The Town

COMMITTEE KEPT BUSY

Township Body Active. An increase in water rates, four ordinances and two appointments kept Township Committee occupied at its meeting last Wednesday.

Committee agreed to write a letter to the Public Utilities Commission in regard to an application filed by Elizabethtown Water Co. for a three percent rate increase on canal water.

The increase is part of a two-phase rate boost, of which the first took effect last September. A hearing was held January 18 before the Commission, but no decision was reached.

Helen Fairbanks, 70 Valley Road, asked whether the water Princeton drinks comes entirely from the canal or partly from wells. "I don't think we should pay the whole increase if we use only a percentage of canal water," she said. Some sections use more well water than canal water, and vice versa, Committeeman David Blair told her, and added that on the whole the percentage of canal water was around 60 percent.

Mayor Josie Hall reported receiving complaints from residents about ground water in certain areas. The mayor thinks the problems may be in the water mains and has asked that complaints be put in writing so "we can present a united front to the water company." "If we are going to have to pay increases, we ought to get our share of fixing up," she asserted.

Exemptions Deleted. Committee passed three ordinances and introduced one. The first established a two-hour parking zone on the east side of John Street and a no-parking zone within a 75-foot area on Harris Road.

Originally the ordinance included a list of exempt vehicles, such as those belonging to doctors, nurses and first aid personnel because of a particular situation on Harris Road where medical personnel had experienced difficulty reaching a chronically ill resident.

However, the ordinance had to be passed without the exemptions because state law no longer allows exempt vehicles on public roads, Township Administrator Joseph Nini told Committee. Cards could be issued by the Township Police, Chief Fred Porter said, to allow the necessary medical vehicles access to the residence in question.

Committee also passed the indemnification ordinance, making the Township responsible if any elected, appointed or employed public official is sued. The third ordinance concerned off-tract site development improvements in terms of sewer and street access and had been requested by the Planning Board.

An ordinance appropriating $2,846 for the Township's share of a traffic light at Stockton Street and Edgerstoune Road was introduced. By agreement, the state will pay 85 percent, or $18,974. The public hearing will be February 14, and it is estimated the light could be in operation by "late spring."

Appointments. Mayor Hall moved the appointment of Constance Greiff of Clover Lane to the Planning Board to fill the one-year unexpired term of Walton Johnson, who has resigned.

Noting that appointments to the Planning Board are of "key importance," Mr. Blair said he felt such appointments "should be made after considerable discussion" on the part of the whole Committee, "and this wasn't so in this case," he said. He abstained from the voting, as did Kate Litvack, who concurred with Mr. Blair.

The two also abstained, on the same grounds, from voting on the elevation of Robert von Zumbusch from alternate to regular member of the Environmental Design Review Committee to replace Mrs. Greiff. Mr. Blair emphasized that he had no quarrel with the qualifications of either appointee, merely with the lack of consultation with all Committee members. Mayor Hall said she had been urged to act speedily by the Planning Board. She said she would circulate the resume of an individual being considered to replace Mr. von Zumbusch.

Committee also learned why the Harrison Street bridge has been closed for longer than the three weeks originally anticipated. The problem is a disagreement between the contracting engineer and Mercer County over the type of surfacing to be used. Meanwhile, bids were received last Monday for repairs to the Mercer Road Bridge, so that presumably work can begin when weather permits.

---

MOOSEHEAD STOLEN

From Quadrangle Club. Each week, TOWN TOPICS' listing of larcenies from the police docket contains an unusual item.

This week's is a $1,000 stuffed moosehead, discovered missing Friday from the poolroom at Quadrangle Club on Prospect Avenue. A favorite item of thieves -- hubcaps -- and this time, four wire wheel caps were stolen from the convertible of a Princeton resident while it was parked in the Dial Lodge lot on Prospect between Friday evening and 6:30 Saturday morning.

---

A Harrison Street resident told police Friday that $80 was stolen from her pocketbook which she had placed under a chair at the Public Library. She said that the money was probably taken when she left her seat to get a book.

A brown leather coat valued at $200 was stolen from the Hudibras Restaurant on Nassau Street where the owner, a Trenton resident, told police he had left it on a chair between 10 p.m. Friday and 1 Saturday morning.

The same time -- 10 to 12:15 a.m. -- a Ewing resident reported the theft of $17 from her brown suede pocketbook which was on a bar at the Masonic Temple, 30 Maclean Street.

---

A 12-inch black and white TV set was taken Monday from a Prospect Avenue home, where, again, police report no forced entry.

DRIVER SUCCUMBS

From Accident Injuries. Jerry Wardlaw, 48, of Yardville, who suffered extensive internal injuries January 26 when his car collided head on with a wrecker truck on a curve on Route 206 North, died Monday morning in Princeton Medical Center.

Sgt. Anthony Nini, the Township's Traffic Safety Officer, reported the police investigation is continuing and that no charges have been made against the truck driver, William Lehrer of Linden. "Of course," Sgt. Nini added, "we will have to view it now in a different light." It was the first fatality in the Township this year.

Three Cars Collide. Three passengers and a driver sustained minor injuries following a three-car collision Thursday morning on Quaker Road.

Mary J. Jones, 65, 201 Loetscher Place, told police her car skidded on the icy roadway when she applied her brakes and it crossed over the center line. It collided with a car coming from the opposite direction driven by William Branson, 40, of Paris, France. A third car, traveling behind the Branson car, was unable to stop on the icy surface, and struck the Branson car in the rear. It was operated by Donna P. Larue, 25, of Aurora, Ill. All three had to be towed away.

Mrs. Jones, 11-year old Emily Branson, Donna P. Seifert, 25, and Richard Seifert, 3, passengers in the Larue car, were all treated at Princeton Medical Center for minor injuries. Mrs. Jones was ticketed by Ptl. Mario Musso for failing to keep right.

Double Whammy. There were no injuries. What must have hurt though, was the double whammy the law of averages delt Dana W. Paige, 31, of Syracuse.

Late Friday evening, Mr. Paige was involved in a minor rear-end accident at the intersection of Stockton and Library Place with James Schmelz of Lambertville.

There was minor damage to Mr. Schmelz's small foreign car when Mr. Paige ran into it and none to the Paige car. After the drivers exchanged information, Mr. Paige proceeded through the intersection -- without yielding for the stop sign.

He collided with a car driven by Walter B. Bingham, 43, of Trenton. After the impact, the Bingham car knocked down a Borough bicycle sign and a fire hydrant before coming to rest on the sidewalk.

The Paige car knocked down a public service pole before it, too, came to rest on the sidewalk. This time, both cars had to be towed away and Mr. Paige was issued a summons by Ptl. William Nathan for failing to yield for a stop sign.

14 STUDENTS INDICTED

On Drug Charges. A special Mercer County grand jury last week indicted 14 of 22 students arrested following a drug raid December 1 at Princeton University.

The raid, coming after a two-month investigation by the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office, Borough and Township police, in which more than $2,000 in drugs were confiscated, has been called the largest drug arrest in the university's history. Twenty-one students and one former student were arrested.

Brian M. Castle, 19, 233 1942 Hall, was indicted for possessing cocaine and LSD, possession of drugs and intent to distribute them. When arrested, he had $2,000 cash in his possession. He was released in the largest bail set for any of the defendants -- 10 percent of $15,500.

Since the raid, five others arrested have had their charges downgraded to disorderly person charges and their cases have been handled by the Borough municipal court. Two others are still under investigation and one, Jenny Lie Thomas, 18, 102 Henry Hall, the only woman arrested, was not indicted.

Others indicted were: Andreas Danchers, 19, 11A Holder Hall, two counts of possession and distribution of LSD; possession and distribution of cocaine, possession of more than 15 grams of marijuana, possession of speed, conspiracy to distribute cocaine and aiding and abetting in the distribution of LSD.

Winter Storm Watch

Muffled, bundled,
Head to toe,
I write a poem
On the snow.
It hasn't fallen,
As I write,
But every forecast's
Colored white.

---

"We can't tell when or how much, because it depends on the track the storm takes. Some time Wednesday, maybe as much as six inches."

That was the gist of the Weather Service forecasts late Tuesday. Note was also made of the fact that whatever fell, it was a year ago this week that 15 more inches on top of what was already here virtually buried the town.

Thursday, the Man says, should be fair and cold. More cold Friday but by Saturday, a milder trend may produce rain. Slowly, the average temperature is expected to climb as the month goes by.

FEBRUARY BLOOMS: Surrounded by greenery in Maxine Farmer's (right) plant room, Alice Carter (standing) and Sylvia Healy (seated), complete plans for the annual "Flowers in February" tour of greenhouses sponsored by the Vassar Club. The tour will take place Sunday, Feburary 25. (Ruth Wilson photo)

GREENHOUSE TOUR SET

For "Flowers in February." The Vassar Club of Central New Jersey has set Sunday, February 25, from 1 to 4 for its third annual greenhouse tour, Flowers in February. All proceeds will benefit the scholarship fund which this year is helping to support seven area students.

Co-chairmen Alice Carter and Sylvia Healy have selected six sites for the tour, all close to one another in the Riverside section of Princeton. The owners' preferences range from a collection of more than 100 Bromeliads to garden rooms flourishing with the use of Wonder lights. Refreshments will be served at one of the homes.

Assisting the chairmen are Rowena Berkeley, Louise Dunham, Flora Maull, Louise Bachelder, Barbara Lawrence, Hilda Jennings, Markell Shriver, Nancy Lifland, Mary Nord and Ruth Wilson.

Tickets at $5 can be purchased in advance by making checks payable to Vassar club of Central New Jersey and mailing to Mrs. Peter Carter, 280 Russell Road. The tickets will be available for pickup on the day of the tour at any of the locations. For further information, call Mrs. Carter at 924-0992.

MAP DISCUSSED

For Land Use. Two changes -- one major -- have been proposed so far as the Planning Board continues its discussion of the land-use map. The suggestions for land use incorporated in the map were explored Monday, and will again be the subject of discussion when the land use sub-committee meets next Monday at 8 p.m. in Valley Road.

The major change, now under consideration, would remove the Winant property that straddles The Great Road north of Mountain Avenue, from "conditional high density" housing to something less intensive. In addition, it has been suggested that a proposed fire station on the Foulet property, northwest of the Unitarian Church, be removed.

Carleton Ryffel, who left his position as resident planner last Friday, emphasized to an audience of about 15 at last Monday's meeting, that the map is for discussion only, and is not fixed or firm in its proposals. He pointed out that, in most cases, density figures have a range, and are for working purposes only.

SPEEDERS ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Four Princeton area speeders were fined Monday by Judge Philip S. Carchman in Borough traffic court.

Gary Towler, A17 Juniper Row, was fined $25; John Vaccaro, Quakerbridge Road, $32; and Nita Rome, 55 Linwood Circle, and Jacquelin Severini, 41 Modet Avenue, Hopewell, each $20. Robert R. Blackburn, 38 Leigh Avenue, paid $110 for driving a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Others: David F. Hagen, 43 South Main Street, Pennington, $25, careless driving; Glenn A. Bevensee, 6 Jill Drive, Lawrenceville, $15, late inspection; Remo Nini, 38 Tee Ar Place, $20, no name on commercial vehicle.

Also, Douglas L. Harman, The Hun School, $20, unregistered vehicle; Kathleen Derbyshire, 391 Franklin Avenue, $20, improper display of plates, and Tracy B. Kenny, 174 Moore Street, $15, no license or registration in possession.

TO HONOR EINSTEIN

On "Inventors' Day." An "Inventors Day" exhibit honoring Albert Einstein will be on display from this Saturday through Monday, February 19, at the Princeton Public Library. "Inventors Day" is February 11, the birthday of Thomas A. Edison, and this is the fifth year the library has presented an inventors exhibit.

Co-ordinators are Richard C. Woodbridge, patent attorney in Princeton and a member of the New Jersey Patent Law Association, and librarian Robert Staples.

Dr. Einstein was an examiner in the Swiss Patent Office when he developed his Theory of Relativity. He lived the last years of his life in Princeton.

The library's exhibit also includes a proclamation designating February 18-25 as "Engineers Week." The proclamation is signed by Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley and Township Mayor Josie Hall.

BOROUGH MAN CHARGED

By Police, Proctors. Douglas H. Miller, 23, 10 Morgan Place, has been charged by Borough police with malicious damage and by university proctors with trespassing.

Miller was discovered by proctors on the second floor of Dodge-Osborn Hall at 9:05 Friday morning. In his possession, police said, was a bottle of wine that had apparently been taken from Murray-Dodge Hall. He was arrested by police at 9:40.

According to police, Miller had allegedly broken a small pane of glass in a side door to enter Murray-Dodge Hall. He then allegedly drank a couple of bottles of wine and did some minor damage to the lounge area when he tossed some furniture around and threw empty food cartons on the floor.

Later released, Miller told police that he had entered Murray-Dodge to find a place to sleep.

Will You Bake a Cake in Exchange for Having Your Lawn Mowed? Just Register with SWAP, New Clearing House for Mutual Aid

What does "SWAP" mean? "Service With a Purpose," that's what.

You need a door planed, a working woman needs somebody to let the plumber in the house at 10 o'clock. You're a retired math teacher who'd love to tutor a kid in return for snow-shoveling.

Well, you get the idea.

Harriet Bogdanoff and Rhona Porter have started SWAP, a non-profit corporation with a minute office at 20 Nassau and a telephone number you're invited to call: 921-7337, between 9 and noon, Mondays through Fridays.

Pay the $5 registration fee, sign the contract, and that's all. There is no charge for SWAP's services, and SWAP isn't an employment agency.

"SWAP": Barter your time or a small service with somebody else who has a need. That's the idea behind a new, non-profit corporation called "SWAP". Founders are Harriet Bogdanoff (left) and Rhona Porter.

How It Works. Harriet and Rhona have a card file. When you realize you'll never get around to that pile of sewing, you call them up. They turn to the file and find a seamstress.

You call the seamstress, and work out how many "credit hours" she will amass for doing your sewing. You, in turn, now have "debit hours" to work off, and all that means is -- you do somthing for somebody else.

No money changes hands, unless you buy materials the seamstress needs – or paint for the SWAP-er you've negotiated with to paint your living-room.

Although Harriet and Rhona will keep track, the debit hours are open-ended in time, and there isn't any stern "You are half an hour in debt" admonition.

"We want to encourage people to realize they have something to give," Rhona explains, "and can ask for help when they need it."

So often, Harriet adds, people need a small thing, like repair of a stuck door, or replacement of a faucet washer. It's hard to find a professional who can take the time for these small jobs, but a handy neighbor, who may need something some day, is just the person.

A Neighborhood Concept. Actual neighbors, who live on the same street, were once called on for these little services, SWAP's founders point out. But today, people frequently don't know one another that well.

SWAP extends the concept of neighborhood to include all of Princeton. You may live on Birch Avenue and the "neighbor" who helps you, on Dodds Lane.

Retired people and newcomers to town will benefit particularly, SWAP believes.

"Retired men and women have skills and time," Harriet observes. "They often would love to help people, to feel they are needed, and are a vital part of the community."

Newcomers, she continues, can make friends through SWAP and learn about Princeton.

Goods, as well as services, can be bartered through SWAP: camping equipment, freezer space, a big coffee pot, home made bread.

Experiences, also: maybe you're going to Germany and want to find out from someone who's been there recently what prices are like. If you're considering white-water rafting, you'll want to talk with someone who's been through it.

SWAP itself has been the recipient of services: legal counsel, how to write a proposal (they're seeking funding), office space, "....and moral support!" Rhona says with feeling.

How It All Began. The two SWAP founders worked closely and in harmony for many years in various Jewish Center projects. Once, half a dozen years ago, Rhona and Daphne Hawkes, both on the Princeton Interfaith Council, considered an employment agency for the elderly. Then Daphne turned to a career as an Episcopalian minister and Rhona raised a family.

A neighbor of Harriet's gave her a clipping about a SWAP-like arganization in Reston, Virginia -- and SWAP began to take shape. Harriet is also president of the Holistic Health Association of the Princeton area.

On SWAP's board are Robert Staples, head of the public library, as president; Jocelyn Helm, vice-president; the Rev. Scott Ritenour, Charlotte Taylor, Mimi Winterbottom, Terry Price and John Lasley.

If you're interested, pick up a contract at the Public Library, at the main office of Princeton Community Village, or Room 213, 20 Nassau.

"With inflation the way it is, this could be a very important way to improve our quality of life," Harriet observes, and Rhona adds, "It's an idea that – well, it just feels good!"

United Way Tops Goal

The United Way-Princeton Area Communities fund drive for 1978 has exceeded its quota for the third consecutive year. James Stewart, Princeton Bank & Trust Co. president who is president of the United Way agencies, will announce the campaign's success at next Wednesday's annual meeting.

More than 250 volunteers who worked on gift solicitation, agency representatives and others interested in the annual undertaking will attend next week's meeting at E. R. Squibb headquarters on Route 206, Lawrenceville. Awards will be made to those who played a major part in raising the $850,000 needed to top the 1978 quota.

Reservations for next Wednesday's meeting, the 40th since United Way was established in 1938 as the Princeton Community Chest, may be made at the organization's office at 221 Witherspoon Street or by telephoning 924-5882 by Friday.

Danger of Wrong Pricing

Since human nature is predictable, there is a better than even chance that you'll put the wrong selling price on your home if you arrive at it yourself.

You may price it far above its fair market value because of sentimental attachment, expenditures you have made, or by heeding a well-meaning friend's advice. A home remaining on the market for months due to over-pricing, frequently becomes a "White Elephant". It eventually sells for a much lower figure than it would have brought originally—had it been priced realistically.

On the other hand, you might under-price it because of unfamiliarity with the local market. This would be financial folly. Your safest bet is to list your home with a Realtor who will help you price it correctly from the start and sell it for the best profit.

If you are leaving the area and need information about homes for sale in another town or state—call STONY BROOK REALTY for a free copy of Homes For Living picture magazine for the area you will be moving to. Stop in and see the selection of Homes for Living from 1,800 offices in over 9,000 communities from coast to coast. STONY BROOK REALTY, 35 W. Broad St., Hopewell. Phone: 466-0900 or 737-9150.

CABARET NIGHT SET

As Career Awards Benefit. Inn Cabaret will return to the Prince William Room at the Nassau Inn Friday night, February 23, for two performances at 8 and 10. Proceeds will benefit the Career Development Awards Scholarship Fund, which provides college scholarships to students pursuing vocational skills.

Those who have enjoyed the Inn Cabaret during the summer will see some familiar faces in the cast doing a few of Cabaret's most popular skits, along with new material. Tickets are priced at $6 per person and may be reserved by calling 921-7500. A cash bar will be provided.

SINGING FOR AWARDS PROGRAM: Liz Filio and Dan Berkowitz will return with Inn Cabaret for two performances February 23 at the Nassau Inn to benefit the Career Development Awards Program.

Since its creation ten years ago, Career Development Awards has awarded scholarships to over 100 students from high schools in the Princeton, Lawrence, Montgomery and West Windsor area. Funds for these scholarships come from area corporations, businesses, and the Princeton Youth Fund. The award winners are selected each spring after extensive interviews.

The board of Career Development Awards, composed of volunteers and guidance counselors from the area high schools, not only selects students with financial need, but also gives honorary awards to students who have excelled in their fields of study. While many scholarships are available for regular college degree programs, CDA is one of the few organizations in the country giving college scholarships in vocational fields. The Inn Cabaret benefit is being held to meet the increasing need for this type of scholarship.

Y.E.S. ELECTS OFFICERS

At Annual Meeting. Nearly 1000 job orders were received by the Youth Employment Service during 1978, it was announced at the annual meeting of the board of directors.

The board thanked retiring member Ben MacMahon for his years of service and elected new officers: D. May Meyerhofer, president; Jack Roberts and Betty Gilbert, vice-presidents; Bob Staples, secretary, and Claire Schmitt, treasurer.

New board members elected are Sanford Bing, Bob Gorman, Billie Martin, Jean Pendergrass, Ed Salkind, Liz Schorzke and Ted Slosson. The board has two student representatives, Jill Fonger from Princeton High School and Bill Haynes from Princeton Day School.

The growing number of job orders (955 compared to 567 two years ago) does not include all those jobs performed by students rehired independently of Y.E.S. by satisfied employers. Jobs ranged from baby-sitting, party-helping and yard work to washing cars at a car agency, monitoring skating on Lake Carnegie, being a stock boy for an appliance store and serving as a subject for an experiment on right-handedness. They were filled by high school students attending school in Princeton and by an occasional college or boarding-school student home for vacation (the maximum age is 19).

Activities during 1978 include a horticulture workshop taught by Townsend Scudder of Ambleside Gardens and four sessions on party-helping taught by Jill Vincent of Palmer House (the University's guest house). The results of a fund drive assured Y.E.S. of community support. The service is based at 120 John Street and its telephone number is 924-5841.

OFFICERS ELECTED

By Civil Rights Commission. Commissioners of the Civil Rights Commission have re-elected John K. Bleimaier, chairman, and named Priscilla A. Waring, vice-chairman. Mr. Bleimaier has served on the Commission since 1976, and Ms. Waring was appointed last year. Martha Hartmann and Beatrice Boyer will serve as secretary and assistant secretary, respectively.

Members also unanimously approved a resolution of appreciation for Commissioner Max D. Blumenfeld and his ongoing work on civil rights. Affectionately known as Princeton's "Mr. Civil Rights," he has been actively involved with the Commission since its inception in 1969 and has held the position of Chairman and vice-Chairman continuously from 1970 through last year.

FORM OF GOVERNMENT?

Speaker Here. Although the Consolidation Study Commission is several months away from deciding whether Borough and Township should be consolidated, its Committee on Possible Forms of Government is at work -- in case.

Ernest C. Reock Jr., an authority on local government, will speak to the committee Saturday at 10 a.m. in Township Hall. It is an open meeting and the public is invited.

Dr. Reock, who is director of the Bureau of Government Research and Services at Rutgers, will describe the kinds of government a consolidated Princeton might have, and will answer questions from the committee.

Harry Sayen is chairman of the Committee on Possible Forms of Government; Margaret Broadwater and Charlotte Gipson are vice-chairmen.

The Catholic School."

The ministry of the Catholic School incorporates a three-fold dimension. God's message, Christian fellowship, and service to the community of man. A parish school is an extension of the education that begins the very day a child is born. Long before a child begins school his parents have taught him many concepts and habits.

---

When a child enters school he is continuing his education, and he still needs his parents' help and guidance. Hence the national theme of the week long observance.

The faculty and parents invite the community, to visit St. Paul's School. Open House will be observed on Thursday from 9-11.

There will be films, exhibits, discussion and travel tips. The program is free, and the public is welcome.

WORKSHOPS PLANNED

By Trinity Counseling. Trinity Counseling Service will hold three workshops in family therapy for area clinicians and mental health practioners.

The first one will be held Tuesday from 10 to 4 with a one hour lunch break. Phoebe Prosky, director for extramural programs at the Ackerman Institute for Family Therapy in New York City, will focus on marital issues in a family therapy perspective. Other workshops will be held on March 13 and April 24 and will feature Augustus Napier of Atlanta, co-author of "The Family Crucible" and Richard Rabkin, M.D. of New York, author of "Strategic Psychotherapy."

According to Dr. Norbert A. Wetzel, coordinator of Trinity Counseling Service's family therapy program, family systems therapy has emerged over the last two decades as a viable alternative to traditional ways of conceptualizing and treating human dilemmas such as marital crises, children's problems and various neuroses, addictions and psychoses like depression or schizophrenia.

Trinity Counseling Service is one of the few centers in New Jersey that teaches family therapy in an intense two year training program to clinicians in the area. Workshops are conducted as part of this program which are open to all mental health practitioners. For further information and application call Dr. Wetzel at 924-0600.

EARLY FILMS ON VIEW

At Library. The Public Library will continue its current series of family movie programs Tuesday at 8 with a showing of movies from the "Silents" to the "Talkies."

"An Edison Album," excerpts from Thomas Edison's films of the silent era, will be followed by "First Flickers," a survey of the pioneer motion pictures made between 1894 and 1912, including D.W. Griffith's "Rescued by Rover," and "Hollywood, the Dream Factory." The showing will last 90 minutes, and everyone is invited.

Target: 4 Car Windows

Four Princeton residents discovered last week that someone out there doesn't like car windows.

Police said the window on the driver's side of four cars, all parked in different locations, had all been broken the same night. "It looks as if someone hit the windows with a hammer," said Capt. Theodore Lewis.

One car was parked on Walnut Lane near the Choir College, one on Prospect Avenue near Princeton Avenue, another on Prospect near Harrison Street and the fourth on Robert Road near Forrester Drive. All apparently were broken Thursday evening between 7 and 8:10.

FAVORABLE PROSPECT: 1979 June Fete co-chairmen Pat Hillier and Jean Cassen seem to be invoking fair weather, a large turn-out and a minimum of complications as they announce the theme and activities chairmen for a Fete of Good Fortune to be held June 2.

THEME ANNOUNCED

For Hospital Fete. The 26th annual benefit for the Medical Center at Princeton this June will be called A Fete of Good Fortune. Fete co-chairmen Jean Cassen and Pat Hillier have announced that this year's festivities will be held on Saturday, June 2, and will feature an oriental theme.

The 1979 Fete is dedicated to Nat McKee, a man who has been a part of the Fete since it began in 1954. He and his grounds crew are responsible for the physical set up of the Fete. Mr. McKee, the construction coordinator at the hospital, has been with the Medical Center for over 30 years and has also served as the assistant vice president for plant services.

The Fete is sponsored by the Auxiliary-Medical Center at Princeton, which organizes and coordinates all fundraising activities and in-service volunteer efforts for the benefit of the medical center. The money raised by the 1979 June Fete will be used for continuing construction and renovations to the hospital, including the addition of 30 medical-surgical beds and new medical library and nursing administrative office.

Activities chairmen will be using the oriental theme for this year's Fete. Sharon Bilanin and Carol Jefferson have begun to seek out Eastern delicacies to enhance the food selections at the Fete of Good Fortune. Sarene Byrne and Margie Haber are planning an exotic affair for the Fete Ball that Friday night, while Trish Albus and Barbara Simonds expect to fill the Lane of Shops with an array of items, Oriental and otherwise.

Barbara Faughnan, Linda Sheldon and Hillary VanderStucken will be in charge of the Garden Tent, and Melinda Achenbach and Elaine Schantzenbach head the new Sports Alley. The children's area will be under the direction of Jeanie Byrne and Lynn Dawes, and the car raffle co-chairmen are Rosalie Corsano and Ruth Crowley.

Mary Jane Hager and Eila Mackenzie are Fete secretaries, and the treasurers are Debbie Shillaber and Bruce Weise. Publicity chairmen are Vicki Hasbrouck and Karen Woodbridge, the Fete photographer is Karen Lynam, and the auction co-chairmen are Kay Ellsworth and Betty Vicinus.

Anita Hamilton and Kathy Martucci will provide the decorations while Nancy Hofmann and Wendy Hopper offer entertainment with an eastern accent. Rounding out the list of chairmen are Jan Noonan and Mary Precheur, in charge of linens; Marty Akers and Kathy Gray, security and parking; Coleen Hall and Jean Parsons, staging.

Mary Ann Linton and Lynne Long will edit the Princeton Fete Cookbook, comprised of the best recipes of area cooks, and Pat Landmann and Ruth Wilson will prepare the program. Robin Kopliner and Kathy Shillaber will attend to program solicitation, and Linda and Gren Gooder and Nancy and Hap Young will be in charge of communications.

STOCKS ARE TOPIC

Of YWCA Sessions. The YWCA's series on "Managing Your Money," will look into investing in stocks and bonds in two sessions. John Florence, manager of the Princeton office of Merrill, Lynch, will discuss defining financial objectives and determining the best vehicle for meeting personal financial goals.

The first session will deal with the stock market, equities and investing in common stock. The second session will go into corporate and municipal bonds and other fixed income securities.

The classes will be given Wednesday evenings, February 14 and 21, from 7:30-9:30 at the Princeton YWCA. The fee for both sessions is $8. For further information, call Arlene Berman, 924-4825, ext. 22.

CLINIC EXPANDED

Biofeedback Training Added. The Princeton Medical Center has announced the expansion of its Behavioral Medicine Learning Clinic to include biofeedback training for persons suffering from stress-related disorders. Biofeedback is defined as the mirroring of biological conditions by specialized instruments which enable the individual to become aware of, and develop control over, physiological processes in his body.

Dr. Lester G. Fehmi, a member of the Department of Rehabilitation, pointed out that "Biofeedback is nothing new. It has been used for two decades in the field of neuromuscular rehabilitation. Recently, however, biofeedback techniques have been refined and extended so that biofeedback is now practical to use for general health care. Clinical research findings have demonstrated the value of biofeedback as an addition to health care services.

"Significant advances have been made," Dr. Fehmi reported, "in the development of the science's extremely sensitive instrumentation and are now being made available to health care facilities.

Mrs. Edith Chamberlin of 435 Prospect Avenue Extension celebrated her 90th birthday last weekend with two parties given in her honor. The first was a dinner at Pretty Brook Tennis Club attended by 27 family members and the other was a luncheon at the home of her son, Thomas F. Huntington of Allison Road for some 40 close friends and relatives.

Mrs. Chamberlin was born February 4, 1889, in Ottumwa, Iowa, the eighth in a family of 10 children. She was graduated from Smith College and married to Henry S. Huntington Jr. before World War I. The couple lived in Watertown, N.Y., and in Roselle, N.J. and had six children, of whom five survive.

Divorced in 1931, she was married to William F. Chamberlin in 1939. Her second husband died in 1945.

Mrs. Chamberlin moved to Princeton in 1932 and lived first on Battle Road, then on Olden Lane in the home now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smoyer, and in 1949 moved to 435 Prospect Avenue where she has lived ever since. Over the years people from many different countries looking for a place to stay in Princeton found a warm welcome under her roof, and Mrs. Chamberlin now has a world-wide network of friends with whom she still corresponds. She has been an active member of the First (now Nassau) Presbyterian Church.

Attending the weekend festivities were her sons, Henry S. Huntington III of Dedham, Mass., Thomas F. Huntington of Princeton, David C. Huntington of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Mrs. Alice H. Allen of Amherst, Mass.; 10 of her 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A fourth great-grandchild, Sarah Herrick Bryant, was born the previous week to Ellen Huntington Bryant and Robert Bryant of Delaware. The infant is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bryant of Hunt Drive.

Ralph Freedman of 299 Harrison Street is the author of a biography called "Hermann Hesse: Pilgrim of Crisis," published by Pantheon Books. Mr. Freedman is professor of comparative literature at Princeton University.

Hesse's 85 years (1877-1962) spanned an entire era in German history, and his work was received with waves of adulation, particularly by the young, at different times during and after his life and at different places in the world. The most recent wave arose in this country during the 1960's, coinciding with the counter-culture and the Vietnam crisis.

In his book, Mr. Freedman reveals the extraordinary, impassioned quest by this artist for meaning in a fragmented and strife-torn world.

The quest, as Mr. Freedman sees it, "was a near mythic odyssey into the turmoil of his inner life . . . With Hesse the struggle for self led him to write relentlessly about even the most mundane experiences of his life, as if at every moment, they were unformed materials waiting to be fashioned into a work of art."

Mr. Freedman concludes, "The reciprocal tension in which Hesse's self-detailed documentations relate to his works explains his success in reflecting his own personal crises in the crises of his time, which eventually encompassed the crises of his entire culture."

Mary Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Pierce Hunter of 280 Edgerstoune Road, and a junior at Skidmore College, pursued a special project during the January term.

Cassidy of 138 Herrontown Rd., has been appointed vice president, manufacturing of Extracorporeal Medical Specialties, Inc., the Johnson & Johnson affiliate that manufactures and markets artificial kidney dialysis and other critical care medical products. He later advanced to a number of managerial positions at Permacel, Windsor Minerals Inc. and the Eastern Surgical Dressings Plant in North Brunswick. Prior to his current position, Mr. Cassidy was director of manufacturing at E.S.D.P.

Housing Is Important.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Palmer Square, Inc. was originally called the Princeton Improvement Co., or PMI. In the thirties a section of Nassau Street was torn down, as well as 80 dwelling units, in order to build the present Palmer Square. Since then only a part of that number of units has been replaced.

Mr. Palmer was pressed by the Community League Housing Committee, a committee of lay citizens, to help fill the gap. Mr. Palmer built a few housing units on Birch Avenue, using plans for workmen's housing in Mr. Palmer's lead company.

Mr. Gerard Lambert put up a few more units on Franklin Avenue. It was seen afterwards that these constructions did not come near filling the gap.

Since that time, there has been a feeling in the community that housing, as well as offices and stores, is important for Princeton.

However, PMI, now Palmer Square, Inc., has announced that it proposes to eliminate apartments from the new plans for Palmer Square in favor of office buildings. The Playhouse is to be torn down this spring and Luttmann's Luggage, 37 Palmer Square North has, as yet, no place to go in Princeton.

Tall office buildings are expensive to the taxpayer, even if they pay high taxes themselves. They create a load on our sewers, traffic at 9 and 5 o'clock, and a high demand for security from our police force for their buildings, a little Wall Street, empty at night and on weekends.

Fortunately, we, the residents of Princeton, can oppose this unbalanced development. We have open government, we have two strong mayors, courageous and capable in their leadership, forthright in their opinions, and attentive to the opinions of others. This is the very opposite of faceless government.

My recent experience is that letters to our mayors are read and that residents attending meetings are listened to.

Inappropriate Conduct.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The most disturbing aspect of the recent revelation that Palmer Square, Inc. plans to build offices rather than apartments is its timing. It has been officially stated that this decision was made "last spring," which would place it in time either before or when the parking garage controversy got into full swing.

Two points are crucial here: the garage concept garnered much of its community support specifically because of the concommitant planned housing for the elderly; and the acknowledged fact that offices require more parking space than apartments.

The picture that emerges is of Palmer Square, Inc., with a vested interest in the hotly-debated parking garage, sitting quietly without giving any public indication of their change in plans and letting us argue among ourselves. I don't appreciate being used in this way. And I don't think it is appropriate conduct for a university.

Unperceptive Critics.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I saw Anne Commire's "Put Them All Together" at McCarter Theatre.

It was a powerful experience, absolutely "true" and psychologically and sociologically believable, crisply and beautifully written, crafted, directed, staged, and acted, and saying some very important things that have not been said before with such excruciating accuracy and effect.

It would be a great pity if this play fades away and does not reach a wider audience because of certain unperceptive critics. The kindest thing I can say about them is that they may never have been exposed to the truths about contemporary motherhood that this play uses as a base on which to artistic drama as well as a cogent commentary.

Thank you, Anne Commire, Michael Kahn, Mariette Hartley et. al., and congratulations on a magnificent achievement.

An Upbeat Occasion.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, playing in the key of "Sesame," seemed to strike exactly the right note for the 1500 area children attending the concerts at the Stuart Country Day School.

Hosted by "Sesame Street" star Bob McGrath, the musical morning was so positively upbeat in its unique and exciting approach to elementary music education that particular recognition is due those who made it all possible:

• Everyone associated with Stuart Country Day School whose cooperative and encouraging spirit was exceeded only by its enthusiastic welcome;

• Local financial institutions who provided the necessary additional funding for the special nature of this program: Princeton Bank & Trust Company, The First National Bank of Princeton, New Jersey National Bank, Nassau Savings & Loan Association, Princeton Savings & Loan Association, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., Wm. Sword & Co., Incorporated, Corporate Contributions Incorporated and Foundation Managers Incorporated.

• The Charles S. Robinson Music Fund (Princeton Bank & Trust Company, Trustee) whose generous contribution also helped make this concert possible.

• Louise Topp of PDS and the performing Suzuki group, and Marie Giancola of Riverside School and her pupils playing rhythm instruments who joined with the Orchestra to the delight of all.

• Barbara Barnett, Joan Hicks and Polly Miller who master-minded the complex arrangements and logistics.

• Finally, thanks for the super audience -- the kids and their teachers whose politeness, attentiveness and responsiveness were music to our ears.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

CONTROLLING SPRING PESTS IN WINTER

with Sam deTuro

February and March is the best time for property owners who have shade and fruit trees on their lawns, to begin slapping on controls to fight against damaging bugs and diseases. Egg masses and various tree diseases infiltrate to their "nesting grounds" during these months.

Shade trees should be protected against pests that live like gluttonous black marketeers, sapping their vitality, marring thier beauty, and often causing their death.

Dormant spraying with special miscible oils will kill overwintering egg masses. Mr deTuro cautions the homeowner not to wait until damage by scale insects, cankerworms, aphids, gypsy moths, tent caterpillars, and browntail moths occurs in the early spring, but strongly recommends calling a tree expert now to help diagnose possible trouble, then schedule promptly dormant spraying and any other corrective treatments.

Special note: in light of predicted bad weather this month, remember to use sand, sawdust, or fertilizers, especially ammonium nitrate, in place of sodium or calcium chloride to melt ice. Chemical fertilizers are salts that can cause injury to trees, shrubs, and lawn grasses when applied in large quantities.

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

(The following information was researched and written by members of the Regional Schools PTO Council, and the opinions expressed are not those of TOWN TOPICS.)

THE PRS BOARD OF EDUCATION, together with the League of Women Voters and Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School (Center for N.J. Affairs), will host an educational forum at the Woodrow Wilson Auditorium next Tuesday Evening, February 13, at 8:00 p.m.

Educational issues – pertinent to the state as well as of exceptional interest to the Princeton area – titled "Excellent Education: For Whom and How Much?" will be the basis for talks by guest speakers who will also participate in answering questions from the audience. Dr. Fred Burke, N.J. Commissioner of Education, and Mr. Dan Newman, chairman of the Assembly's Education Committee, will address the issues related to improving and evaluating the schools in general together with the cost factors in state aid monies and local tax contributions.

Mr. Winthrop Pike, PRS School Board president, Mrs. Rita Ludlum, LWV representative, and Prof. Henry Drewry of Princeton University will direct the initial questions; their background and interest in the local schools make this group excellent respondents.

If there's anything you'd like to know on the subject but were afraid – or didn't know whom to ask – this forum is for you. If you're concerned about how state testing, tenure, and rising taxes affect education, be there. If you have considered being a candidate for the Board of Education, this forum was designed to enlighten and encourage you.

Parking for Woodrow Wilson auditorium is available at night in the University lots by the Engineering Quad or at the rear of Nassau St. School.

COMMUNITY PARK SCHOOL'S ACTIVITY Day has a focus of Arts and Crafts as a result of student decision. The afternoon workshops at school have a wide variety of offerings including origami, leathercraft, pottery, photography, candlemaking, and lawn mower maintenance. Group leaders for these – and other – activities have been drawn from staff, parents, students, and the community.

JOHN WITHERSPOON SCHOOL'S Library will house an exhibit on Communication: from Petroglyph to Satellites beginning February 12. This display will feature many types of communication with a hands-on approach. Parents are invited to enjoy and participate in this show; the library is open any school day for visitors. People interested in developing new ideas and enrichment materials for area schools are encouraged to visit, examine, and volunteer.

LAST YEAR'S LIBERAL snowfall triggered Littlebrook's gym teacher, Mr. Gilbert, into providing cross-country ski experience for the students. Plans are ready for a similar experience this year for the children, parents, and staff – when Mother Nature provides the proper ground-cover.

RIVERSIDE STUDENTS REPRESENTED PRS at the signing of the proclamation for the International Year of the Child in Governor Byrne's State House Office. Twelve students, representing twelve different countries give a real international flavor to the occasion. Each student was given a pen and a poem written by Commissioner Burke.

JOHNSON PARK STUDENTS were recently entertained at a school-wide assembly presented by Mary Benton, Patricia Hlatter, Elizabeth Horn, Mary Elizabeth Stuart, and Joan Wilson, members of the Engelchor Consort, in a program of medieval and renaissance music.

COMMUNITY PARK'S HI-LOWS, the school's fourth and fifth grade choir, will present a concert for parents tonight, February 7, at 8:00 in the auditorium. A special dress rehearsal yesterday became an assembly program for all students. Ms. Carol Jenkins, vocal music teacher, is the choir director.

SCHOOL NURSE DAY BECAME Margaret Pazdan Day at Littlebrook School as the school honored their nurse. The staff provided coffee, the PTO, flowers, and the students, cards and letters thanking Mrs. Pazdan for her help.

HV OVERWHELMED

By PHS Five, 63-36. "That's one of the best halves we've played," commented Princeton High basketball coach Ed Beacham, after his Little Tigers had run and shot their way to a commanding 39-15 lead over visiting Hopewell Valley Tuesday afternoon.

"But we've got another one to go. We've been here before -- many times."

As it was, the Little Tiger express came to a halt, netting only six points in the third period. But it didn't matter. The Bulldogs, who have won only three games this season under new coach Jack Wolff, did not have the guns to make a game of it. PHS won its tenth easily, 63-36.

"It's probably a little tough on the kids to get 24 points ahead and come out with the same intensity," said Beacham. "I have a feeling the way we moved the ball in the first half we may be ready for some of the other clubs. We're moving the ball better."

"We're at the same point before in our schedule where we won five straight so maybe we can get another string of three or four in a row."

Other Sports on Pages 10B-15B

At the end of the first period, Beacham told his club, "One thing we can do on this team is run." And he turned them loose. Peter Sharpless turned the sparse crowd on when, after a driving layup near the end of the half, he got the ball again on a fast break and rammed home a slam dunk.

Princeton's trapping defense, where the two closest players always converge on the man with the ball, limited the toothless Bulldogs to five baskets in the first half, one by Brian Byrnes in the second period.

Dave Johnson -- Mr. Instant Offense -- came off the bench again to lead PHS with 14 -- eight in the final period. Jeff Marshall had 12, Sharpless, nine, and Bob Flippin, eight, for PHS.

Byrnes led Hopewell (3-14) with 10 points, while Jim Rocco and Dave Imrie combined for 15.

Midway in the final period, Beacham sent in his reserves and his Hopewell counterpart did the same, seeing the game was irretrievably lost. The battle for scoring honors among the PHS reserves -- Pat McAvenia, Kieran Esposito, David Zink, David Nathan, Eric Swartzentruber -- was won by the latter who had four points.

Merrill Zinder Buys Burned-Out River's Edge, Plans to Double Good Time Charley's in Size and Open Restaurant in Mt. Holly

THE ZINDERS MOVE ONWARD: Merrill Zinder (right) founder of the Good Time Charley restaurant chain, has expansion plans. His son, Marc, will open a health-oriented restaurant in Mt. Holly this month.

Good quality food, a comfortable atmosphere, served by pleasant people who care – at reasonable prices.

That formula is offered by Merrill Zinder of Hopewell as the reason for his phenomenal success as a restauranteur. There is nothing unique about his formula. What makes the difference, Mr. Zinder declares, is the way it is implemented.

"I seem to have a knack for giving what the customer wants," he said. That "knack," beginning ten years ago with the December, 1969, opening of Good Time Charley's in Kingston, has led to a chain of restaurants which Mr. Zinder reported is the fifth largest in the state.

Included are Charley's Brother in Hopewell, Charley's Other Brother in Mt. Holly, Charley's Uncle in East Brunswick and Princeton Seafood & Produce Co., also of Mt. Holly, which supplies all Charley restaurants with fresh meat, seafood and produce from trips (four each week) to the Philadelphia markets.

More Growth Planned. Now the Good Time Charley enterprise is ready to expand again on three fronts. Mr. Zinder reports that construction will begin this spring on expansion of Good Time Charley's in Kingston which will double its present size. Completion is expected by Christmas.

At the same time, he is working on plans with Princeton architect Jeremiah Ford to rebuild and expand the burned-down River's Edge Restaurant in Lambertville which he has purchased. The name River's Edge will be retained.

Mr. Zinder promised that the 373-seat restaurant and bar when completed on the original thick stone foundation will be "gorgeous." Work will begin in the "very near future," he said – as soon as he obtains a building permit.

Before either development, however, a new city relative of Charley's Other Brother, Muffins Progressive Eatery, a health-oriented restaurant, is scheduled to open February 19 at 64 High Street in Mt. Holly. Marc Zinder, Mr. Zinder's 23-year old son, a graduate of the Cornell School of Hotel Administration, will be in charge.

Muffins is a departure from the other Charley restaurants. "I feel we're starting something, a new trend," said Marc. "I feel people are moving toward eating what is good for them."

A Varied Menu. While Muffins will be health-oriented, Marc added that they don't want to exclude anybody. "We'll have something for everyone," he said.

"We won't be extreme," echoed his father. "The accent will be on health foods but we may serve meat. We'll try to be as natural as possible, as fresh as possible and as healthy as possible."

Muffins will be open for breakfast (7:30), lunch and dinner. It will feature a health and juice bar, nourishing sandwiches, salads, crepes, quiches, omelettes and a variety of entrees. There will be different specials every day.

One of the cooks, Blake Langston, is famous for her home-made granola," said Mr. Zinder. Blake and Nina Stryker Head, both former cooks at The Whole Earth Center in Princeton, have joined Marc at Muffins.

At one of the pre-opening tastings, Mr. Zinder had high praise for a wheat loaf. "I would have sworn it was meat," he said.

Made on the Spot. The Zinders have also purchased equipment to make their own home-made ice cream and yogurt. Soups and breads will also be home-made. "We expect to do a large takeout business," Mr. Zinder commented.

A "very clever" and unusual menu was designed by Lora Lee Strauss, wife of Princeton attorney Gordon Strauss. Waitresses will wear warm-up pants, T-shirts and jogging shoes.

Mr. Zinder described the decor as airy, bright (from two antique skylights) and open. There are many hanging plants -- a mixutre of old and new -- different from any of the Charley restaurants.

When Mr. Zinder asked his son if he would be interested in managing the restaurant and possibly starting a chain, he said that he was tickled to death. "He'll be in charge," he said, although he admitted he'll be looking over his shoulder from time to time to see how Marc is doing.

Marc has already had some valuable experience. The 6-3, former captain of the Cornell tennis team worked a summer as a cook in a Nantucket restaurant and another as a cook's helper and bartender in a restaurant in Ithaca, N.Y. He has worked in various capacities in all the Charley restaurants and when his father opened Charley's Uncle, he took a year off from school to help get it started.

"Unbelievably Helpful." Saying he has numerous plans for restaurants, Mr. Zinder added he had been gathering information on health and health foods. Also in his file was an article from TOWN TOPICS on the closing of the Whole Earth Center Restaurant, mentioning that the owners would be glad to be of help to anyone interested in opening a health restaurant.

When Marc said, yes, he'd be interested in taking over such a restaurant, his father asked him to contact the Whole Earth Center. "He found them unbelievably helpful and cooperative," Mr. Zinder said, particularly Peter Baruch. Mr. Baruch, confirmed Marc, "was a big help in finding chefs and in supplying us with general information and tidbits about what to do and not do in the health food field.

The success of the former merchant -- for years he owned Zinder's toy and stationery store at 102 Nassau Street in which he retains a part interest -- in the competitive restaurant field is widely acknowledged.

Said one associate, "Merrill's earned every penny. He put his head on the block when he opened Good Time Charley's. He gambled every cent he had in that." Mr. Zinder agreed that if the venture had gone sour, it would have been the end of his restaurant career. He also risked everything again when he acquired Charley's Brother, "but when I did Charley's Other Brother and had three, I felt our formula would be successful anywhere."

A Showplace. If, as Mr. Zinder claims, Good Time Charley's is one of the most successful restaurants in the eastern United States, the plans he has for its expansion should make it a showplace.

A new lounge, a new dance floor (56 x 40 feet) and a band stand where "mellow, danceable music" will be played will be added. The bar will be enlarged. A new banquet room will seat 125 to 150. There will be an additional dining room.

The kitchen will be enlarged approximately four times its present size, Freezer and refrigerator capacity will be doubled. A larger kitchen will enable him to expand the menu, Mr. Zinder said, and one addition he has planned is a Special Chinese Feast Night or a separate dining room where gourmet Chinese specialties will be served.

A new rear entrance will be added as well as a larger vestibule and coat rooms. There will be new, enlarged rest rooms. The waiting area, now small and cramped, will be a comfortable place to relax and enjoy a drink or cocktail before dinner, Mr. Zinder said.

Traffic patterns involving customers and restaurant personnel will be greatly improved, Mr. Zinder continued. "The whole thing will be geared to the customers' comfort."

—Preston Eckmeder

Nassau Pharmacy Partnership Dissolved; State Will Investigate Remaining Owner

Emery Witt, 77 Riverside Drive, has announced that he is no longer affiliated in any way with Nassau Pharmacy, 80 Nassau Street (see advertisement, page 6).

For the past 14 years Mr. Witt was a 50 percent owner of the pharmacy with Edwin Panitch, who owned the other 50 percent. The Appellate Division of Superior Court last month upheld Mr. Panitch's two-year pharmacy license suspension for Medicaid fraud. Three weeks ago, Mr. Witt sold his entire interest in the Nassau Pharmacy to Mr. Panitch.

Nassau Pharmacy was not part of the New Jersey State Board of Pharmacy's case against Mr. Panitch. He was also owner of Rutgers Pharmacy, Inc., on Elizabeth Street in New Brunswick.

The Board of Pharmacy said Mr. Panitch "actively instigated and participated in a fraudulent scheme to bilk Medicaid out of thousands of dollars by submitting false claim forms." He received Medicaid assistance payments to which he was not entitled, the state board said, and was guilty of "grossly unprofessional conduct."

According to the Attorney General's office, Mr. Panitch must now inform the Board of Pharmacy of the Nassau Pharmacy change of ownership. The board will then conduct an examination to determine whether he should be the owner of a pharmacy, and among the board's questions will be whether he has ever been convicted of a crime.

Mr. Panitch was indicted in May, 1974, for Medicaid fraud. The indictment was dropped three years later when Rutgers Pharmacy, acting as a corporation, pled guilty to an accusation stemming from the same Medicaid charges. The Board of Pharmacy dealt with Mr. Panitch himself, not with Rutgers Pharmacy as a corporate entity.

Attorneys for the state say that normally a pharmacy remains open for business while the board is making its determination.

AFRICAN SCHOOL GAINS

Through Trinity Outreach. When Trinity Church adopted its Master Plan for a new organ and alterations and renovations to the church and parish hall, it also made a committment to outreach of 20 to 25 percent of the total $1.25 million to be raised for the Master Plan. Three areas of outreach were envisaged: Princeton, Trenton and overseas.

This week Mrs. Verna Mathews of 87 Lovers Lane, chairman of the Overseas Outreach Group of the Christian Action Board, received a letter and pictures from Bulawayo, Rhodesia, describing a new vocational training center that Trinity is supporting in the Diocese of Matabeleland.

Trinity has sent $10,000 of a pledged $30,000 for the building of a new technical secondary school in St. Columba's parish, Bulawayo, and expects to send another $10,000 shortly. In addition, the Diocese of New Jersey, which has had a three-year companion-diocese relationship with the Diocese of Matabeleland, has pledged an additional $10,000.

The letter Mrs. Mathews received was written by the Rev. E. Graham Burroughs, project director for the St. Columba's Development Project, a $1 million complex of which a new rectory and the trade training school are a part. Fr. Burroughs wrote that he had been in Holland and Germany raising substantial funds for the school which is expected to cost $530,000 over the next two years.

"This is a three stream school of four years of secondary education," he writes, in which the total number of children is expected to be 432. "We have been urged by the Ministry of Education to open even before our buildings are complete and we have therefore appointed staff and taken in 108 children in the undemolished old buildings."

Fr. Burroughs adds, "When a model of the new school was unveiled last week, our own congregation did a jig around it in true African style. We hope that our scheme will become a symbol of hope and light for the future of this poor benighted country."

The site was partially cleared by the people of the parish who then sold the building materials from the demolished buildings to raise money for the school and rectory which are expected to be completed by the end of this year. Fr. Burroughs hopes that someone from the Diocese of New Jersey can be on hand for the formal opening.

In March he was called into active service with the National Guard, and was detailed to the 1st Officer's Training Camp at Ft. Myer, Va., graduating with the rank of captain. He was assigned to the 305th Ammunition Train of the 80th Division and served with it in France including the St. Mihiel and Meause-Argonne offensives.

Following the Armistice he took command of the U.S. Army Detachment (1000 officers and soldiers) at the University of Montpelier, and Academiques by the French government for its success. In September 1918, he was discharged with the rank of major, and was called to Princeton to help organize the new School of Architecture. There he was promoted to Associate Professor (1925), Director (1928) and Professor (1931).

Among their joint works were the State Cottages for disturbed children at Allaire, N.J. and the Princeton YM-YWCA. Other architectural commissions completed by Prof. Morgan were the first Princeton Hospital, the laboratories of E. R. Squibb & Sons in Brooklyn and New Brunswick, and the Squibb Institute of Medical Research at New Brunswick; the original Westminster Choir College buildings and the Sunday School wing and Niles Memorial Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton.

OLDER THAN THE UNITED STATES

This colonial farmhouse is alive with warmth and atmosphere. The original section has been traced back to at least 1738, and was part of a large section of land granted by the King of England. To this day, the property is still known as King's Grant Farm.

As you enter into the home through the main hallway, the lovely panelled billard room, with built-in bookcases, and family room with huge walk-in fireplace are to your right. To your left is the large living room with fireplace, perfect for entertaining. Beyond this is the dining room, also with a fireplace, that could easily seat a dinner party for 30. The huge country kitchen offers lots of cabinet space, and has been completely modernized. The 6 bedrooms and additional 3 baths on the second floor can be easily reached by any of 3 staircases.

The grounds included a greenhouse, 3 story barn with separate workshop, 2 storage buildings, pump house and a 20 x 40 inground pool. This exceptional property is presently under tarm assessment and is available for purchase with either 94 or 53 acres. Please call for additional details and appointments.

Two-Day Festival at John Witherspoon School To Mark Benefits of Foreign Language Program

"WE, THE MAYORS, PROCLAIM...": Mayors Josie Hall and Robert W. Cawley, of Township and Borough, sign a Proclamation designating next Tuesday and Wednesday as "Princeton Foreign Language and Cultural Days." Next week is "National Foreign Language Week." Behind the two mayors are students and faculty from the John Witherspoon Middle School's foreign language department: French teacher Raymond Hunt; eighth-graders Kathleen Massenet and Andy Fillo and Spanish teacher Tink Lessing.

A celebration dedicated to "the children of the world" will fill the halls of the John Witherspoon Middle School next week with singing, the stomp of dancing feet, the swirl of costumes and the aroma of exotic foods. "Exotic," that is, at John Witherspoon School -- daily fare elsewhere in the world.

It's the Foreign Language Festival -- next Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., and Foreign Language Day the following day. The evening festival will be open to the community.

Two languages are taught at the Middle School -- French and Spanish -- so the theme of the Festival is the culture of French-speaking and Spanish-speaking countries, rather than a broader "international" theme.

Foreign language is an elective for the sixth, seventh and eighth-graders who constitute the school's population. There are 715 students, and 650 of them take a language. In the sixth grade, they have 35 minutes a day; in the seventh and eighth, 40 minutes.

When you enter the big building on Walnut Lane next Tuesday at 7:30, you'll have half an hour to stroll among the booths before the show begins in the auditorium at 8. Then, after the show, you can go back for a final half hour to catch up with what you missed.

Food? Nibble a bunuelo or a crepe -- freshly made by some of the 200 parents who have been working on the Festival since late last year.

You may be drawn to the Wine and Cheese booth, but be forewarned: the booth is a stern and scholarly investigation into the geography and process of making wine and cheese. Maps and pictures, yes, but nary a sip nor a nibble.

Puppets in Traditional Roles. French- and Spanish-speaking puppets will act out their age-old roles -- a traditional Guignol by the French students; and from Spanish classes, the students' adaptation of scenes from Spanish life.

Students who own puppets have brought them to school on loan; some puppets have been made for the occasion. You'll see other "Realia" in a booth full of dolls in native dress -- and that's a lot of dolls when you stop to think how many Spanish-speaking countries there are, to say nothing of French-speaking Canada, Haiti ..... In this booth also will be samples of weaving, pottery, wood-carving, and the other crafts of Spanish- and French-speaking artisans.

A booth by itself isn't big enough for sports, but you'll find the room set aside for a demonstration of the French game of "boules." Bull-fighting -- well, in mobiles only! Soccer, of course, skiing, pelote .....

To show that the study of language is just the beginning, there will be a booth on careers that are open to linguists. Throughout the school, you'll be aware that 1979 is the "International Year of the Child," and there will be posters on the Rights of Children and the broad theme of the year.

Entertainment for All. The show in the auditorium will be both serious and fun, with "something for everybody." French students will present a scene from Moliere's "L'Avarre," and Spanish students will enact a part of Vital Aza's "El Sueno Dorado."

There will be a fashion show, to a background of scenic slides. Mothers and sisters and teachers and students made the costumes (or borrowed them) copying from pictures in books.

The Music Hall will have can-can dancers, a seductive tango (both to taped music) and a real live Flamenco guitarist from the John Witherspoon student body. Songs will come from a sixth-grade chorus honoring French Canada with "Alouette" and Mexico with "Cielito Lindo." Folk dancers will bow to France and Mexico.

The grand finale will be a parade of the flags of the

News Of The THEATRES

READY FOR G. & S.?

Intime Is. A cast drawn from the Princeton University student body is in rehearsal for Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience," which will be given by Theatre Intime at Murray Theatre, opening Thursday, February 15.

"Patience" will play February 15-18 and again February 22-25, with performances at 8:30. Dale Coye is directing.

Patience the milkmaid will be played by Milly Massey, a sophomore, who will be seen on a Princeton stage for the first time. She spent five years in a touring theatre company for children, and has acted in summer repertory.

The poet, Bunthorne, will be played by Fred Ebert, an engineering junior who says he plans to complete work for his engineering degree, work for 15 years, then retire and devote his time to the theatre. Mr. Ebert stars in the annual NBC special, "Sit Down, Shut Up, Get Out." A dancer and singer, he has been featured in Triangle Club productions.

The other poet, Grosvenor, is Princeton University junior Paul Judge, who has been in Triangle productions since his freshman year. Earlier this year, he played Benvolio in Intime's "Romeo and Juliet," and last year, he was in the Sondheim musical, "Anyone Can Whistle" for Intime.

FELD DANCERS HERE

This is the second in the theatre's three dance events of the season. Dennis Wayne's Dancers played McCarter in January and the Pennsylvania Ballet will come to McCarter in May.

Commire Receives Grant

Anne Commire, whose play, "Put Them All Together," will conclude its McCarter run Sunday, has received a one-year grant from the Rockefeller Foundation and has decided to fulfill its six-week residency requirement at McCarter.

"Put Them All Together" was one of hundreds of scripts submitted last year to McCarter. The theatre featured the play in a program of rehearsed readings and with the encouragement of McCarter's producing director, Michael Kahn, Ms. Commire continued to work on the play, submitting it this summer for presentation at the National Playwrights Conference at the O'Neill Theatre Center in Waterford, Conn. The play opened its McCarter run January 25.

Stories of Some of Our Lives
This is a feature-length documentary about Growing Up Gay in America. It consists of interviews with 26 homosexual men and women who have one thing in common: the ability to speak matter-of-factly, and with conviction and humor, about who they are, and what it's like to grow up "different". It offers individual experience, not sloganeering or sensationalism, and shatters the whole notion of homosexual stereotypes.

News of the Theatres

documentary of homosexuality in America offered recently on public television, will be shown twice in the Movies-from-McCarter series next Tuesday. The screenings will be at 7 and 9:15 at the theatre. Tickets will be on sale at the door an hour before show time.

---

The film consists of interviews with 26 homosexual men and women in their homes. Subjects range in age from their 20s -- a Princeton University undergraduate is included, photographed against the University campus – to their 70s.

The subjects have in common the ability to speak matter-of-factly about who they are, and what it means to grow up in America as a homosexual. They address their lives with humor and frankness, and the film is never sloganistic or sensational.

For Kids. "The Rescuers," Walt Disney's 22nd feature-length animated film, will be given two showings this Saturday at McCarter Theatre in the Movies-for-Kids series. The movie will be shown at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. and tickets will be on sale the day of the screenings.

The story of "The Rescuers" details the adventures of two mice as they try to save a runaway orphan and her teddy bear from the clutches of the wicked Madame Medusa, defined by McCarter as "a greedy ogress."

It is Madame's plan to lower the little girl into a cavern at low tide with instructions to find an enormous and hidden diamond before high tide comes in and floods everybody. A pair of green alligators connive in this scheme, also. The mice are triumphant, as is virtue, aided by a dragonfly and an albatross.

Adults will recognize the voices of Bob Newhart, Eva Gabor, Joe Flynn and Geraldine Page. Disney's short, "Lend a Paw," winner of the 1941 Academy Award in its category, will be the curtain-raiser.

TRUSTEES ELECTED

By Creative Theatre. Diana Crane, Herbert McAneny and Judith Nielsen have been elected to the Board of Trustees of Creative Theatre Unlimited. Reelected for three-year terms were Wendy Benchley, Susan M. Brainerd and Joanne Coppola.

---

Dr. Brainerd was elected president of the board; Charles Pierce, vice-president; Mr. Coppola, secretary and Nancy Lichtenstein, treasurer. Student members for 1979 are Peter Dolotta, Hilary Pierce and Jennifer Van Dyck.

---

Believing that it is the process of creating that stimulates the imagination and encourages original thought, the volunteer board guides and supports the work of a professional staff of actor-teachers with Ruth Wallman, executive director. The organization was founded in 1969 and has its office and studio at 33 Mercer Street.

---

Reflecting upon the annual report, retiring president Jacqueline Johnson pointed out, "Last year 300 students from Mercer, Somerset, Middlesex, Monmouth and Hunterdon Counties attended classes at CTU; the Performance Troupe performed participatory theater with 33 young audiences -- approximately 6000 children – and staff members were invited by groups statewide to be artists-in-residence aod to conduct such workshops as "Creativity for Teachers of the Gifted and Talented" and for parents, "What To Do When the T.V. Is Off."

---

ANNIVERSARY MARKED

PHS Given Piano for Its 50th. A $14,000 seven-foot Steinway grand piano -- $8,000, at the school discount rate -- is now in residence at Princeton High School.

The instrument is a 50th anniversary present to Princeton High, presented by the Student Council. Money came from the Student Activities Fund, where funds had been accumulating over a period of several years.

It was in March of last year that Niels Nielsen, treasurer of Student Council, suggested that a committee be formed to investigate the possibility of a new grand piano for the school.

Advised by associate music director Nancianne Parrella, and other members of an adult advisory committee, Council decided that a seven-foot Steinway would best serve the school's needs.

In November, the committee visited the Steinway factory, and found the "right" piano. At the time the decision was made, the piano was priced at $11,000. The current price is $14,000, but at the school discount, Student Council only had to pay $8,000.

Joining Nielsen on the Council committee were Archer Clark, Jim Yager, Mark Yim, Miles Pratt and Paul Lysaker.

BRENDEL TO RETURN

To McCarter Theatre. The renowned Austrian pianist, Alfred Brendel, will return to Princeton on Monday at 8:30 at McCarter Theatre in the third concert of Series I of the Princeton University Concerts. This appearance marks his fourth here under the auspices of the Princeton University Concerts.

---

Seven albums of piano compositions by Franz Liszt have established Alfred Brendel as one of the foremost Liszt interpreters of our time. For his program in Princeton, Mr. Brendel will perform three works by Liszt: Four Late Pieces, Three Pieces from "Annees de Pelerinage, Troisieme Annee," and Csardas Macabre. He will also play "Six Little Piano Pieces," by Schoenberg; "Toccata" by Busoni and Brahms' "Variations and Fugue on a Theme by Handel" Opus 24.

With a concert career that takes him throughout the world, Brendel now makes his home in London. In his 1978-79 tour of North America, he is performing with the New York Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony and the Cleveland Orchestra and will be heard in recital twice in Carnegie Hall and in Washington, Chicago, Toronto and Los Angeles, as well as Princeton and Yale. His book, "Musical Thoughts and After-Thoughts" was published by the Princeton University Press a few seasons ago.

Tickets for the concert are available at the McCarter Theatre box office, and students may obtain them the day of the concert for $2.50.

TWO CONCERTS PLANNED

By Friends of Music. The Friends of Music at Princeton will present a bass-baritone and a pianist in two free concerts this weekend in Woolworth Center. Stephen Owen, bass-baritone, will give a recital accompanied by Cleve McDonough, piano, Friday at 8:30, and pianist Frank Weinstock will perform Sunday at 3.

Mr. Owen is a graduate of Wheaton College and Princeton Theological Seminary. He has had considerable operatic and oratorio solo experience and has performed a number of roles with the Princeton Opera Association. In New York, Mr. Owen has performed with the Bel Canto Opera, the Verdi Square Opera and at Carnegie Hall as Don Alfonso in "Cosi fan tutte."

Mr. McDonough is a graduate of the University of Texas and the Boston Conservatory. He is associated with Opera Gyarto in New York City. For his program, Mr. Owen will perform works by Bach, R. Vaughan Williams, Franz Schubert, Ned Rorem and J. Ibert.

Mr. Weinstock's program will include a first performance of Piano Sonata No. 2 by Henry Martin (a Princeton graduate student), Schubert's "Four Impromtus" Opus 90; "Sonata in B Minor, Opus 1" by Berg and Beethoven's "Sonata in C Major" Opus 53 ("Waldstein").

A graduate of Oberlin and the New England Conservatory, Mr. Weinstock has had considerable performance experience throughout the country. He made his New York debut in 1977 and in March and April this year will play a series of three different recitals in Carnegie Recital Hall. He is currently teaching in Princeton and next summer will join the faculty of the Eastern Music Festival in Greensboro, N.C.

VIVALDI WORKS PLANNED

By Musical Amateurs. The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will have its next open reading on Sunday at 4 in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road and Route 206.

The program will be two works by Vivaldi, the "Gloria" and the "Kyrie." James Litton, Choirmaster and Organist of Trinity Church, will conduct the chorus, orchestra, and soloists, Mary Kemp, soprano; Shirley Kinsley, soprano; and Cynthia Lake, mezzo-soprano.

Anyone with musical interest and modest sight-reading ability is welcome to participate in the chorus. Music and refreshments are provided. There is a small charge for those without a yearly membership.

WALTZ TIME COMING: Carlotta Dolich (left) chairman of the Parents Association of the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra, and Evelyn Krosnick (center), orchestra manager, meet with Mary Ann Von Verdo, innkeeper of the Nassau Inn, to make plans for "An Evening with Strauss" on May 25 at the Inn. The event will benefit the youth orchestra.

All students are admitted free, as are those who come only to listen. For further information call Mrs. Michael Ramus at 924-4266.

SOPRANO TO SING

At Choir College. Evelyn Peterson will sing Friday, February 16, at 8 in the Playhouse at Westminster Choir College. The public is invited.

A graduate of Vassar College, Miss Peterson continued her musical studies at the Juilliard School, at the Fontainebleau School in France, and with private teachers. She is a resident of Greenwich, Conn. and is presently studying with Patricia Brooks.

Miss Peterson has sung professionally before college and organizational audiences and has participated in the University of Illinois Opera Workshops, the Berkshire Music Center and the Manhattanville College Summer Session.

A niece of Prof. and Mrs. Sherley Morgan of Princeton, she is a lyric soprano.

PIANIST TO PLAY

At Westminster. Henry Palkes of St. Louis, a pianist with a specialty in Brahms, will be performing at Westminster Choir College on Thursday, February 15, at 8:30 p.m. in the Playhouse. The public is invited.

Mr. Palkes is a graduate of the Juilliard School where he was a scholarship student, a bronze medal winner at the International Piano Competition in Geneva, Switzerland in 1975, and a recipient of a grant to study in Germany in 1975. He also graduated from Interlochen Academy for the Arts, after having attended a regular high school for two years.

His program includes Mozart's Sonata in A minor, Berg's Sonata opus 1, Prokofieff's Sonata no. 3, and Brahms' Sonata, opus 5 in F minor.

SPORTS FANS I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to You by John Bernard

Two of the most amazing basketball games ever played were both played on the same night 2 years ago ... In one of those games, on Jan. 28, 1977, Centenary College scored an incredible 8 points IN THE FINAL 3 SECONDS to beat Northwestern Louisiana 79-71 -- and what made that finish even more unusual is that Northwestern ALSO got a basket in those last 3 seconds ... Centenary started those final 3 seconds by scoring 5 points on a combination of personal and technical fouls with the clock stopped for the foul shots ... Then when play started again, they stole an inbounds pass, scored, were fouled again and sank the free throw for a 3-point play ... Then Northwestern got a basket as time ran out, making a total of 10 points in 3 seconds!

A Question Arises as Princeton Fortunes Sag in Basketball: Will Tigers Finish in 2d Division for First Time Since 1956?

For the first time in almost a quarter of a century, the odds are not much better than even that Princeton's basketball team may finish out of first division in the Ivy League. The last time that occurred was in March, 1956, and with a 1-4 start this year, all that is working against such an astonishing development is the fact that six of the Tigers' last nine games are at home.

As had been widely anticipated, the current race belongs solely to Pennsylvania. The 5-0 Quakers will play seven of their final nine in the Palestra, are 13-3 overall and should qualify easily for the NCAA Tournament, into which Ivy teams no longer fit automatically.

Princeton, which will entertain Cornell Friday and Columbia Saturday (the latter game on Channels 23 and 52), is making a sufficient number of errors in all categories of play so that it will not be a clear-cut favorite in Jadwin even against some of the weaker league teams it has dominated for years. Even the Tigers' renowned defensive ability isn't of much help, because they are losing games when they hold Yale to 53 points and Brown to 52. Last weekend, they could score but 47 in New Haven and 49 at Providence.

Cornell, off to a fast pre-Christmas start, suffered through a 1-11 streak until Saturday, when it somewhat surprisingly beat Dartmouth at Ithaca, 68-61. The Red has all five of last year's starters back, but forward Mike Davis, second all-Ivy last winter as a sophomore, is the only one of marked ability.

Columbia, Saturday night's opponent, regrouped from a three-game losing streak (Brown, Yale, Fordham) to turn back Dartmouth and Columbia last weekend in New York. Ricky Free, Alton Byrd and Juan Mitchell head this all-senior team, which outranks the Tigers in overall ability and would dearly like to beat them here to get a stronger shot at a third straight first-division finish.

Princeton 18, Moss 16. In the Brown game, they trailed 24-18 at the half because their defense had allowed the Bruins' Peter Moss 16 points (on 8 for 10 shooting) and their own offense had hit on a mere 25 percent of its field goal attempts. The Tigers had a highly unusual 24-10 edge in rebounding but couldn't put the ball in the ocean.

In the final period, they battled back to take the lead at 33-31, trailed by five (43-38) as play progressed but came out on top once more at 45-44 on a Steve Mills jumper. The home team, no better than 6-10 overall but second on the Ivy ladder, then moved out to 46-45 and iced the outcome on a four-point play.

While Chuck Mack was connecting on a line-drive effort from 15 feet out, Randy Melville was called for a foul away from the ball and the resulting two-point conversion was all the cushion Brown needed. As had been the case against Yale 24 hours earlier, a costly turnover in the closing seconds made a last-ditch rally impossible.

Steve Mills with 16 was high scorer for the first time this season, followed by Melville with 13. Roma was held to 9, and when the Tigers' only double-figure man doesn't make it there himself, chances for victory are slim.

At New Haven Friday night, both teams suffered through long scoring droughts, but when the last one -- late in the final period – was debited to the Tigers, it cost them the ball game. Behind by 49-41 with the clock showing nine minutes to go, the Orange and Black battled back to the point where it trailed by only two (49-47) and still had five and a half minutes left in which to take charge.

Unaccountably, it shut down for good, failing to make another point and watching the Elis edge away as it fouled trying to gain possession. Yale's use of a zone stymied the Orange and Black offense, which threatens to post the lowest average recorded by a Princeton team in many years.

Score at Half Tied. In the early going, the home team broke away from a 14-all tie with a 9-2 burst but then failed to hit the basket in the last six minutes of the opening half. The Tigers, struggling, managed to draw even at 23 at the intermission.

The Blue was ready to be beaten by a take-charge team, but the Tigers don't do that very often this winter. Yale followed its inability to score at the end of the first half with another eight-minute drought in the second. From the time the clock showed 12 minutes of the final round had elapsed until the final buzzer, the Elis added a mere eight free throws to their total – and still Princeton lost.

Neil Christel, improving slowly at times but a key figure for the future, collected nine rebounds and returned to double figures for the first time in several weeks with 10 points. Bob Roma, zeroing in on the Princeton 1,000-point club in his final year, added 13. In another three years, the symbol will lose much of its status because of elimination last fall of the freshman ineligibility rule.

Earlier in the week, the Tigers returned to action following the exam break by literally outrunning Long Island University, 82 to 64. So successful was the rarely-used fast-break against the Blackbirds that Coach Pete Carril's squad broke away from a contest that was close only in the early minutes to lead by 38-27 at the half and by as many as 25 points during the final period.

---

A blend of scoring bursts by Bob Roma, Randy Melville and Roger Schmitt effectively killed off the opposition. Roma had a standout first half, when 7 for 12 shooting and all four from the line produced 18 points.

---

When he cooled off with just six more in the second session, Melville and Schmitt both connected for 12. Melville, the PDS alumnus who is a sophomore, hit for a personal high of 20, showed extreme agility in his contributions to the fast break and connected on a number of picturesque layups.

---

From their 11-point margin at the intermission, the Tigers ran to a 64-44 advantage with 8:18 left and built that to 72-47 before settling for their final margin -- the 82 points representing their highest total by six thus this season. Their .556 percent shooting average was highly effective, while defensively, they forced the losers into 26 turnovers and held them to 33 percent of their field goal attempts.

Defensive Errors Cost Hockey Team Victory Over Harvard—Yale, Brown Face Tigers Next

Ivy action will continue for the Princeton hockey team during the next ten days, but the Tigers may have missed their best chance to break into the league victory column this season when they let a probable triumph over Harvard dissolve into a disappointing 7-7 tie. Twice in Saturday's game in Baker Rink, the Orange and Black had surprising three-goal leads (5-2 and 6-3) but in the end, all they could put into the record book was the fourth deadlock of the year -- the highest number of no-decisions any Princeton team has played.

Yale, improving steadily during the past two years, will skate here Wednesday night at 7:30, with Brown, the current league-leader, scheduled for the same hour Saturday. Then it will be back to the road, and back to New England, to face Harvard again the following Wednesday and Dartmouth at Hanover on Saturday, February 17. The Princeton record is now 3-11-4, and off the continuing defensive problems the Tigers have, there is reason to wonder whether their victory total this frustrating winter will climb even one game higher.

It should have, last Saturday. The team's best offensive showing of the year and its most productive effort against Harvard in a quarter-century fell short of victory because of its frequent penchant for putting clearing passes on Harvard sticks and because the inexperienced Bob Mann had the kind of problems in the nets that persist when a goalie is learning his trade.

Harvard, too, was in constant trouble defensively, showing equal weakness in the goal and yielding six Princeton scores in the first 22 minutes. Thereafter, however, the Crimson improved steadily and fought off what actually loomed as a possible rout by erasing a three-goal deficit to send the game into overtime. In the end, it was the visitors who had earned the major credits, for having rallied to avoid defeat in a game away from home.

Eight-Goal First Period. Harvard opened the scoring at 6:28 with a shot that went under Mann's legs but at 11:02, Craig Tresham took a pass from freshman Chuck Huggins to rifle shot into the far side of the goal from 25 feet out. A Princeton power-play then misfired so badly that the disorganization led to a short-handed Harvard goal at 13:58, Mann getting wholly inadequate protection.

---

In the very free-scoring game, the home team now rebounded with four straight goals -- the first by Tresham on a semi-breakaway, two within the space of 14 seconds by sophomore Dave Tweedy, and one by Huggins. They came within a space of just over three minutes, an astonishing outburst for a team still struggling to play solid hockey. Some of the glitter was then rubbed off when a give-way goal chargeable to poor clearing in the defensive zone narrowed Harvard's gap to 5-3 just before the period ended.

Princeton took its second three-goal lead at 1:47 of the middle round, Trevor Kilburn's shot from 15 feet simply bouncing over the Harvard goalie's stick because he didn't have a firm enough grip on it. That proved to be the peak of Princeton fortunes; thereafter, they slid slowly downhill.

A two-man advantage at 7:40 saw the visitors edge closer when Mann let a 40-footer from dead center get by, and the Tigers were still a man down when Harvard drew within one (6-5) at 9:17. The Crimson came even at 15:21 on a shot from the left alley that went between the post and the Tiger goalie, but Princeton managed to skate off for the intermission with a 7-6 lead after junior Joe Fero banged in a 12-foot rebound.

Princeton scoring ended there, despite another 28 minutes and 39 seconds of play. Harvard did not come even until 15:51 of the third period, the shot again going under Mann's legs after no Princeton defender had done much to prevent its launching.

In the extra 10-minute session, the home team outshot the visitors, 11 to 3, but numerous near misses merely served to heighten the general feeling of frustration. In all, shots on goal favored Princeton, 41 to 32, but the fine offensive showing was very nearly negated in full by the many defensive lapses.

The Tigers will have a pair of difficult assignments during the coming week when they attempt to turn the tables on opponents who have already beaten them decisively. Back in December, they lost to Yale, 7-4, and to Brown, 9-3. Both teams are well up in the running for the Ivy title they rarely win, and chances of an upset are slim.

---

To make matters more difficult for Princeton, both the Elis and the Bruins have standout goalies. Keith Allain performs in the nets for Yale, and Mike Laycock for Brown. Each is ranked among the top eight in the east and Laycock earned All-American rating last year as a junior.

Gay Lawrence, one of the Elis' leading point-producers, recorded the hat trick against Princeton in the first game between the teams. Brown's offense is led by Jim Lawson and Rick Scully, with the Bruins' roster including the fourth member of the Bennett family (Cranston, R.I.) to play for them. The oldest member of the clan, Curt, has been with the Atlanta Flames.

No Contest at Cornell. At Ithaca last Wednesday, Cornell skated to a 6-0 lead before the losers averted a shutout with a pair of goals. The Red outshot the Tigers, 46 to 30, and beat goatie Bob Mann four times in on power plays, ending the fine string of 30 during which the undermanned Princetonians had held opposing teams at bay.

In the final seconds of the

GLOBETROTTERS COMING

Due in Jadwin Feb. 15. The Harlem Globetrotters, whose mastery of trick basketball feats has entertained millions in many nations, will return to Jadwin Gymnasium on Thursday, February 15. Previous appearances here have drawn sell-out crowds of 7,5000 and this one is expected to follow suit.

During their colorful history, the troup has played a total of 13,279 games, better than one quarter of them in foreign lands. In 1979 alone, the Trotters' journeys will take them from Canada to Brazil in the Western Hemisphere and to Scandinavia, Spain, England, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Greece, Yugoslavia and parts of Africa's west coast.

In addition to their feature game against the Washington Generals at 8, the Globetrotters' show will be augmented by a pair of variety acts at halftime. One highlights the Marchitas, who perform acrobatic feats on a variety of one-wheeled and two-wheeled cycles, including their unique "Bicycle Ballet." Also featured will be one of Europe's best known circus personalities, Walter Wasil. This young Austrian performs a routine of feats combining strength and balance, chiefly built around stunts performed while standing on one hand high above the arena floor.

A basketball game between the women's teams of Princeton and Villanova will open the program at 5:30. Tickets for the Globetrotters appearance are on sale at the Jadwin Ticket Office between 9 and 2 Monday through Friday and are priced at $6, $5 and $4. Mail orders, including 50 cents for handling, are accepted at P.O. Box 71, Princeton, N.J. 08540. Proceeds will benefit The United Way in Princeton and surrounding communities.

COURT JESTERS: Geese Ausbie and Curly Neal will perform with the Harlem Globetrotters in Jadwin Gym Thursday, February 15. Story, this pega.

TIGERS VS. BULLDOGS

On Mat This Wednesday. Despite losses to Delran and Allentown last week, the Princeton High School wrestling team is still very much alive in the Colonial Valley Conference, where it has a 2-1 record.

Whether the Little Tigers remain in contention for league honors will be determined this Wednesday evening when they play host to Hopewell Valley. The Bulldogs raised their record to 10-2 with a 34-26 win over South Hunterdon in their last start and are vying with West Windsor -- along with PHS – for the league title.

PHS coach Tom Murray says his team matches up well with the Bulldogs but if the Little Tigers hope to record an upset, they are going to have to score heavily in the middle weights. With no 188-pounder and with young, inexperienced Marco Nini at heavyweight, they are faced with the prospect of needing a 13-point bulge entering the final two matches if they hope to win.

PHS will continue a busy week with a dual meet Saturday at 2 against Peddie in Hightstown and Trenton here Monday night at 8. The final meet will be next Wednesday at home against Notre Dame.

Sports in Princeton

Murray watched his team lose to Delran Saturday. A year ago, PHS, then undefeated, lost to Delran, 26-24, when heavyweight Mike Henninger was pinned with 48 aeconds left. It was Princeton's only loss in its best season ever.

This year, the Little Tigers entered the match with a .500 record (6-6) but the results were the same. Leading 26-17, going into the last two matches, PHS gave up six when it forfeited the 188-pound class and tben lost the match, 29-26, when Delran Heavyweight Mike Kadelski pinned Nini in 68 seconds.

Despite the loss, Murray reported that PHS "wrestled very well. Probably the best we've done all year." Bruce Cobb, he said, had his best match of the campaign when he pinned Delran's Dave Cornew in 4:25. It was Cobb's 14th win in 15 bouts.

Princeton got off to a poor start when Josh Miller and Eric Schwartz were pinned at 101 and 115 points – two pins the Little Tigers gave up that they shouldn't have, according to Murray.

In between, Matt Wilkinson remained undefeated at 108 pounds with a 6-0 decision. Cobb at 122 pounds and Bob Schmidt contributed pins for PHS, Schmidt getting his over his 135-pound opponent in 5:05.

The closest match was in the 148-pound class where Ben Navarro of PHS battled Frank Cassera to a scoreless draw. Navarro was down in the final period and needed only an escape to win, but couldn't quite manage it.

Murray also singled out Gary Carnevale, who decisioned Ken Schultz, 6-3. Schultz had pinned Carnevale last year and has lost only once this season. Also capturing decisions for PHS were Brent Robinson, a 5-0 winner at 141 pounds, and Luciano Procaccini, an 11-7 winner at 170.

Allentown Wins, 36-12. Earlier in the week, PHS lost to unbeaten Allentown, but this time, Murray was unhappy over his team's performance in the 36-12 loss. "We didn't wrestle worth a damn, we really didn't," said Murray, who bewailed Princeton's lack of aggressiveness.

PHS actually won four of the first seven bouts to tie Allentown at 12 but all were by decision and Murray knew, in order to win, his top wrestlers needed pins.

Cobb lost two points when he was twice called for stalling against Allentown's Pat Garafolo but went on to win, 7-3.

Wilkinson won 5-0 and Schmidt, 4-0, at 134 pounds. In the best bout for PHS, Robinson was trailing Frank Redondo when he scored an escape, take-down and near-fall in the final 10 seconds for a stirring 7-5 decision.

Allentown swept the remaining five matches, amassing 18 points in three minutes. Once-defeated Darren Baker pinned Procaccini in 2:23, PHS forfeited 188 and Chris Probasco flattened Nini in 45 seconds.

Carnevale staged a valiant struggle against Allentown's touted and much stronger Jerry Selp but lost a 10-5 decision. Once again, Navarro was involved in a very close match. He lost, 1-0, to Steve Schenker at 148 pounds, when Schenker gained a neutral in the final period. Navarro had scored a takedown in tbe opening period but the referee ruled it occured off the mat.

THREE IN A ROW

For PDS Hockey Team. One week has made a world of difference for the Princeton Day hockey team. Seven days ago, the Panthers had lost three consecutive contests, all close, but their record had fallen to 4-8.

The squad had been steadily improving all season, but had little to show for its work. Now the Blue and White has something to talk about: a modest three-game win streak, and the good possibility of finishing the season with a winning record.

PDS started easily last Wednesday, laughing its way through an 11-4 rout of Newark Academy, which has a way to go before it becomes competitive in hockey. Mike Shannon led the scoring parade with a hat trick as the Panthers led 3-1 at the end of the first period, and 7-2 at the end of the second.

John Drezner, Kent Wilkinson, Andy Jensen and Larry Pierson all tallied twice, while Doug Matthews had four assists and Ward Taggart, three. Phil Maltese was in the goal for PDS.

Montclair Beaten. An indication of just how much PDS has improved came Friday afternoon when it traveled to North Jersey and whipped Montclair High School, 5-2. Montclair had blanked the Panthers, 6-0, when the two met in a pre-season scrimmage.

Andy Jensen got PDS off to an auspicious start when he tallied a shorthanded goal off a face-off early in the first period. The Blue and White dominated the ice most of the first session, but found themselves in a 1-1 tie at the end when the home team scored.

Poor ice conditions contributed to sluggish play in the second by PDS, but although the momentum seemed to swing over to Montclair, neither side could produce a goal.

In the third, PDS grabbed a 2-1 lead when Kevin Johnson, got his first score of the season on a slap shot from the point. However, Montclair needed only 14 seconds to come up with its second goal.

Later in the period, the Panthers went ahead to stay when Drezner put in the rebound of a shot by Pierson. A short while later, Johnson notched his second of the game assisted by Scott Egner and John Brush, and Brush put the icing on the cake with an empty net goal near the end.

Saturday morning, PDS was back on its own ice against Hamden Hall in a fast-moving contest. Jensen again got PDS off to a good beginning with a first period goal. The visitors tied it early in the second, but Pierson put the Panthers up 2-1 a few minutes later on a slap shot from the slot.

---

Still plagued by letdowns near the end of the period, PDS coughed up the tying goal with 1:24 left in the second. In the third, Hamden Hall moved out to a 3-2 lead, scoring with less than six minutes left.

---

Panthers Don't Panic. PDS refused to panic, and in the next five minutes put in three "textbook" goals to seal its third win of the week. "They scored three goals on plays that looked like I had drawn them on a blackboard," coach Harry Rulon-Miller commented.

Shannon got the tying score when he converted a drop pass from Drezner who got a feed from Matthews. With two minutes left, Drezner put in the go-ahead tally off assists from Shannon and Pierson just as a PDS power play expired.

And with 50 seconds remaining and PDS enjoying a 4-3 man advantage, Taggart scored at the end of some nice passing. "It was an amazing finish," Rulon-Miller said.

Coming up, PDS has Peddie on Friday, Lawrenceville next Wednesday away and Conestoga home next Tuesday. It should win two of three without too much trouble, and would certainly like to avenge the loss to Lawrenceville earlier in the season.

2 LEAGUE GAMES NEXT

For PHS Basketball Team. The Princeton High School basketball team did little to enhance its reputation last week, winning one game it was supposed to and losing two in which it was the underdog.

Coach Ed Beacham's Little Tigers will play two Colonial Valley Conference foes next, opposing West Windsor Friday evening at 8 in Plainsboro and playing host to Notre Dame at 3:45. Thursday's scheduled game here with Princeton Day School has been postponed until February 16 at PDS because of a rule prohibiting a team from playing four games in one week.

The extra contest for PHS taook place Sunday when a three-game tournament designed to showcase prominent high school teams from the Northern New Jersey - New York area was held in the Rider College gym.

In the opening game, Princeton High dropped a 65-49 decision to St. Patrick's of Elizabeth. In the second game, Orange, the top-ranked team in the state and unbeaten in 16 games, defeated Power Memorial of New York (Abdul-Jabbar's high school team) 79-55, while in the nightcap, Princeton Day School (16-5) squandered a 10-1 first period lead and went on to lose to Weequabic, 61-53.

"We didn't know anything about them," said Beacham of St. Patrick's, "other than that they were one of the class teams in the state. We felt we couldn't go in there and do nothing so we thought we would try to press. We did.

"We pressed and got a basket, we pressed and got a basket." Before too many minutes had elapsed, PHS had an 8-2 lead over the Celtics. That was it for PHS.

---

"I don't know what happens whenever we get ahead, I wish I did," lamented Beacham. Whatever it is that causes PHS to react adversely whenever it has a lead it happened again. St. Patrick's tied the game at 9 and then went on to score the next ten points to pull ahead.

Princeton's scoring was well balanced with Bob Flippin getting 10, Shaun Tobin 8 and Kevin Robinson and Peter Sharpless, 6 each. Jerry Hobbie, Burnett Adams and John Baker combined for 47 Celtic points, Hobbie leading all players with 20.

Johnson Triggers Surge. On Friday, Dave Johnson came off the bench to score 10 of his game-high 14 points in the second period when PHS was connecting for 20 to lead PHS to a 65-39 win over Hightstown.

The cold-shooting Rams made it easy for the Little Tigers by shooting a dreadful 16-for-51. PHS, in winning its ninth, was 29-for-65. The 39 points were 12 lower than the previous best defensive effort by Princeton.

The game safely in hand by intermission, Beacham went to his bench in the second half and 12 of the 14 players he used scored. Kelly Robinson was second in scoring for PHS with 9. Dave Olson's 12 led the Rams, who dropped their tenth in 15 games.

Neither team had much to point to. "When you play a sloppy club, you play sloppy," observed Beacham.

Playing Our Game. For the first two periods early last week, Princeton played highly-favored Trenton even – on the Tornadoes' home court.

"We were playing well and they weren't (Trenton hit on only 10 of 33 shots in the half) and the combination of the two was slowing them down," remarked Beacham.

---

"We had them in our game. They tried to run and we wouldn't let them." Then after the intermission, which ended 27-26 in Trenton's favor, Princeton yielded to temptation and decided to try to run with Trenton.

"We went from four down to 14 down in two minutes," recalled Beacham. "That was it." Trenton went on to win, 67-50.

A pair of sophomores led Princeton. Peter Sharpless was high for the Little Tigers with 15 while Tobin netted 14, 10 in the first half. Kevin Robinson added 8.

Ray Robinson (14 points) and Michael Brooks (12) led Trenton, which won its 13th game in 18 starts. Trenton shot 41 percent from the floor, PHS 42.

PDS QUINTET NOW 16-5

Plays Solebury Wednesday.

Less than two weeks remain until the end of the regular season for the Princeton Day basketball team, and if last week's game against Peddie is any indication, the Panthers are more than ready to begin their quest for a sixth straight State Prep "B" title.

Sporting a 16-5 mark, the Blue and White has a shot at winning 20 games before tournament play begins. Remaining on the schedule are Solebury this Wednesday at home, St. Mary's High next Monday away, Rutgers Prep at home next Wednesday, and a contest with Princeton High probably on Feb. 16 postponed from Feb. 8. That date is not definite.

After a couple of lacklustre showings against Lawrenceville and Pennington, both of which it managed to win, PDS put it all together against Peddie last Friday evening at home, winning 82-41.

"It was a near perfect game for us," commented coach Alan Taback. We played great defense and our offense ran smoothly. It's what I've been looking for all season long. To a man, everyone played up to his level of ability."

---

The Panthers did not run over a weak team. Peddie had won eight of 12 this season, but it was obviously right from the start that the Blue and White was going to control this one. Leading 18-8 at the end of the first quarter, PDS increased that to 43-20 at the half.

It was 68-31 at the end of the third quarter, and Taback got 11 players into the game before the final buzzer. Carl Hill led all scorers with 21 points, Jim Cox had 18 and Jamie Bartolomei, 14.

The momentum from this victory carried the Panthers through the first quarter of a game with Weequaic, a good team from Newark. A last-minute addition to the schedule, the contest was played Sunday at Rider College as part of a triple-header.

PDS led 10-0 at the end of the first period, but the visitors gradually began to find the range, and slowly began to take command. At the end, they owned a 60-53 triumph.

Earlier last week, PDS got off to another blazing start in the first quarter, leading Pennington, 14-2, but then allowed the Raiders to pull within two at the half, 21-19. After an unimpressive third quarter, PDS in the words of Taback "finally decided to work harder" and moved out to a 10-point lead in the fourth.

The final was 53-44, with Hill garnering almost half his team's points on eight field goals and nine free throws for 25. Vic Kuzmicz had 11.

Ice Carnival Planned

The Princeton Skating Club is in rehearsal for "Carnival '79" which will be held twice Saturday, February 24, at 8 and Sunday, February 25, at 3:30 at Baker Rink. Performing will be more than 200 children and adults, guest stars, and Treby McLaughlin of Princeton, who has passed seven of the eight USFSA tests needed for a gold medal.

The program will be divided into acts, "A Small World," depicting various countries, and one featuring a "Disco" theme. Chairmen are Mrs. George McLaughlin and Mrs. Barnwell Straut. Tickets at $3 will be sold at Allen's, Hulit's or at the door.

For information on tickets or serving as a patron call Mrs. C. A. Faden, 924-0948, or Mrs. John Lee, 921-7449.

DATES ANNOUNCED

For Platform Tennis Tourney. The Princeton Recreation Department will sponsor the Princeton Area Platform Tennis Championships March 5-6 and 10-11.

The tournament, which is co-sponsored by Bedens Brook, Pretty Brook and Hopewell Valley Golf Club, will begin the 5th for women and the 10th for men. Both championship and consolation finals will be held on March 11.

Entry forms will be available at participating clubs, Community Park Courts and the Princeton Recreation Office. Entrants must either live in Princeton or have an affiliation with one of the participating clubs. For additional information, call the Recreation Office at 921-9480.

FINAL HOME GAMES

For Hun Basketball Team. Splitting a pair of games last week for a 12-7 record, the Hun School basketball team will make its final two home apperances this week.

The Raiders will entertain Solebury Friday evening at 8:30 and then Hamilton, one of the top-ranked teams in Mercer County, Monday afternoon at 3:15. The season's finale will be two days later against Peddie in Hightstown.

Friday in Pennington, in what Hun coach Dave Leete described as a good game for Hun, the Raiders defeated Pennington Prep, 79-53. Once again, Arvie Powell paced the Hun offense with 26 points but he got solid support from Keith Duvin who added 17, Ken Stoddard, 16, and Mark DeLorenzo, 11.

Powell, the former standout from Ewing, now has 417 points in 19 games for a 22-point average. His nearest teammate is Stoddard with 168.

Pennington was led by Bill Dockery with 12 points and seven rebounds. The losers' record fell to 7-10.

Earlier in the week, Hun trailed a good Rutgers Prep team (13-5) by no more than 60-55, at the end of three periods but then, commented Leete, "we ran out of gas."

In the final eight minutes, the home team outscored Hun, 30-16, for a 90-71 win. Powell, supported by Duvin and Stoddard who combined for 28 points, led all scorers with 29, but Rutgers Prep placed four men in double figures.

SEASON GETS LONGER

For PHS Girls Quintet. This season of frustration stretched a tittle longer for the Princeton High School girls basketball team which suffered through two more losses last week, including a two-point setback to rival Stuart Country Day.

In a Colonial Valley Conference game Friday, Hightstown defeated the Little Tigers for the second time this season, 76-58, behind the 26 points of Melanie Balcomb, the second leading scorer in the country. The Rams took a 32-18 lead at the intermission as Sharon Conover chipped in with 18 points.

For Princeton, (2-13) Sarah Glinka tied Balcomb for scoring honors with 26 points, while Wendy Goodyear also tied Conover as the second leading scorer with 18. Tina Carlson contributed eight PHS points.

Against Stuart, Goodyear's desperation shot at the end of the game that would have sent the contest into overtime came a second after the buzzer. As a result, Stuart (5-3) salvaged a 38-36 win.

Goodyear and Glinka each had eight points for PHS and Carlson added seven, while Stuart's Cindy McVay led all scorers with 13.

Language Festival

French-speaking and Spanish-speaking worlds – and a salute to the world's children. The marching tune is to be a surprise.

... Then it's back to the booths to see whether the crepes and bunuelos are all gone.

Hundreds Co-operate. Needless to say, nothing like this can be put on without guiding hands and a great deal of co-operation.

After a minute's thought, French teacher Raymond Hunt says "Call me 'co-ordinator'" of the school's language faculty of five, and "co-ordinator" for the Festival as well. His faculty colleagues are Carol Suplee and Ellie Pinelli, who teach French, and Tink Lessing and Lynda Johnson, who teach Spanish.

---

Mr. Hunt will be leading that chorus, but he says with feeling that he never could have done it without the professional coaching of Joe Parrella. Ruth Steiner is costume co-ordinator, and the benign and radiant sun on the atrium poster is the work of art teacher Marvin Levitt.

Yes, there really have been 200 parents involved, Mr. Hunt says. Marjorie Sensenigh and Artis Phillips were assigned by the PTO to work with the foreign language department.

There were things to cook, seams to sew (flags, costumes, banners), slides to arrange, treasures to lend from travels around the globe, props to keep track of, booths to construct ... and the logistics of keeping all those eager young participants where they ought to be.

After Tuesday night's Festival, there will be a "Day." Teachers of other subjects have been asked to stress ethnic and cultural diversity, human rights, international understanding. Students themselves will have a chance to visit the booths, and, in two assemblies, to see the show of the night before.

"A time," wrote Mr. Hunt in his Proclamation, "for all of us to reflect on and appreciate our cultural diversity, and to re-dedicate ourselves to the concerns of children, both here at home and throughout the world."

DRIVE TO OPEN

For United Jewish Appeal. The Princeton Area United Jewish Appeal launched its 1979 campaign with an Advanced Gifts reception on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Skriloff. Dr. Arieh Plotkin, an Israeli scholar and expert in the fields of international relations, international law and comparative government, will speak.

Dr. Plotkin did graduate work at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and its Department of Politics. As a lecturer and interpreter of Israel on college campuses and for the UJA, he draws upon his background as a youngster in the Haganah, an officer in the Intelligence Corps of the Israel Defense Forces, and as an international scholar.

Funds raised by the United Jewish Appeal go to support the costs of relocation, housing, education, health and welfare services in Israel, in addition to health and social services in the United States. Monies raised also aid in resettlement of Jews from the Soviet Union and other countries, in Israel and the United States.

Alfred Peiser is general chairman of the 1979 UJA drive in the Princeton area. Captains are Jack Avins, Burton Baum, Jess Epstein, Arthur Fein and Hazel Stix. Jane Rodney is chairman of arrangements for the Advanced Gifts reception. Inquiries or contributions may be addressed to Hazel Stix at 231 Brookstone Drive, 924-4317.
